COUNTY FAIR STARTS WEDNESDAY

Big Event Starts With Gala Parade

EXHIBITS COVER HOME AND ARTS

Next Wednesday is the Day and Seaside Park is the place! It's the annual Princess Anne County Fair, sponsored jointly by the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and the Princess Anne Ruritan Club, which begins with a gala parade at 7 o'clock Wednesday, which will see floats and marching units galore, with stirring music by several high school marching bands.

The fair, the first big event of the fall season in the county, is the culmination of much planning and labor by the sponsoring organizations, and the interest of the entire community. Exhibits of practically everything grown or made in Princess Anne County will be on display, and cash awards will be given for the best in many, many classifications, which have been published in previous issues of the Sun-News. Farm produce, flowers, hand-work, canned fruits and vegetables will vie with literary and artistic efforts of the folk hereabout, and fun and frolic will mingle gaily with the more serious lights of the occasion.

BEAUTY CONTEST PROVES ONE OF BIG FAIR FEATURES

Topping the many gala events at the Princess Anne County Fair this year, beginning next Wednesday, September 9, and closing Saturday night, September 12, will be the choosing and crowning of "Miss Princess Anne."

A seventh contestant is Miss Dolly White, sponsored by American Legion Post 113, of whom no photo was available as we went to press.

Competition in the event has been keen, with seven local beauties, sponsored by a like number of county clubs and organizations, staging neck-and-neck, down-to-the-wire finishes.

It was announced this week that all votes for the contestants must be turned in between noon and two o'clock Saturday, September 12, to Mrs. Wallace Clark, at the Flower booth, in the ball room, at the park. To avoid last minute confusion and delays, sponsors must count all money representing votes for their candidates and turn it in the form of a certified check, enclosed in a sealed envelope. No cash will be accepted. The envelopes will be opened just prior to the coronation, to take place late Saturday night.

No Development In McGown Case

Virginia Beach Police were unable at press time to report any new developments in the search for Dr. Albert S. McGown, of Richmond, whose car, a green 1953 Sedan, was found abandoned last week on Thirtieth Street and the ocean front.

BATON TWIRLERS IN COMPETITION

On Friday, September 11th at the Princess Anne County Fair there will be a Baton Twirling Contest. There will be four age groups. Medals will be given to the first, second and third place winners in each group.

Registration will be held from 1:00 to 3:00 o'clock the day of the contest. The event will take place at 3:00 o'clock. Anyone between the ages of six through nineteen is invited to compete.

There will be no credit given on dance steps and acrobatics. Judging will be on twirling only. Any one desiring further information call Mrs. Charles Hitchings telephone 2325.

Piloting Courses Will be Given

The Elizabeth River Power Squadron has announced dates for the beginning of fall classes in "Piloting Seamanship and Small Boat Handling." This course, which is open to the public without charge, covers such subjects as Rules of the Road, Lights and Equipment, the Compass, Safety at Sea, Piloting and Yacht Etiquette.

The classes will be held one night each week for thirteen weeks and are open to men and women over 18 years of age. It is not necessary to be a boat owner to enroll in the course. While Chapman's "Small Boat Handling" is used as a text book, several movies and various models are shown to illustrate the lectures.

The United States Power Squadron, of which Elizabeth River Squadron is a unit, is a national organization devoted to both the educational and recreational side of boating. Its membership now exceeds twenty-five thousand yachtsmen.

Those desiring to register for the course may do so at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club on Monday, September 14th at 8:00 p.m. The same course will also be given in Norfolk and Portsmouth. Registrations will be received in Norfolk at William & Mary College on the 15th and in Portsmouth at the Virginia Boat and Yacht Marina.

NEW BROADWALK RAIL PLACED; SAND FOR FILL IS CONTRACTED

A resplendent aluminum railing has added to the looks of the boardwalk, from Twenty-fourth to Thirty-fifth Street, giving a medium of promise as to what the beach will look like when the $1,000,000 rehabilitation program is completed in the not too distant future.

A spokesman for the Virginia Beach Erosion Commission said the extension of the new railing, to the foot of the boardwalk, replacing the unsightly rust-work railing that has been deteriorating for many years, plus a new surfacing for the two-mile promenade, will be completed well in advance of the opening of the 1954 season.

H. E. Halstead, vice chairman of the commission, is so enthusiastic that he contends the beach front next year will be the finest along the Atlantic seacoast, barring none.

Pulpwood Sets New High Mark

In 1952, pulpwood production in the South reached still another new high, according to information recently released by the Southern and Southeastern Forest Experiment Stations working in cooperation with the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association. The total harvest was 14,564,000 cords, of which pine constituted some 12,762,700 cords—or 88 percent; and hardwood made up the remaining 1,762,200 cords—or 12 percent. The overall total represented an increase of 3.6 percent over 1951 production, and a 17.1 percent jump over 1950 production records.

In Virginia, however, due to labor difficulties and strikes at some of the mills, production decreased from a total of 1,326,339 cords in 1951 to 1,069,129 cords in 1952—a drop of 19.4 percent.

Georgia was the largest southern producer, accounting for 2,813,000 cords; and was followed in order by Mississippi, 1,865,000; Alabama, 1,669,000; Florida, 1,583,000; North Carolina, 1,332,000; South Carolina, 1,276,000; Louisiana, 1,235,000; Texas, 1,100,000; Virginia, 1,069,000; Arkansas, 620,000; Tennessee, 268,000; and Oklahoma, 35,000.

Dey Appeals to Motorists to Give Kids Break on Streets

Help School Safety Patrol members prevent death or injury in traffic accidents to Virginia children.

The plea to motorists was made today by John B. Dey, vice president of Tidewater Auto Assn., as the Club released the September kit of AAA safety education material to teachers in elementary and junior high schools, based on the slogan, "Help Your Safety Patrol."

"The new materials are the first of a series of ten kits to be issued monthly by the Club to aid teachers in the important task of continuously reminding children of the dangers of street traffic and of the time-proven practices of safe walking," Mr. Dey said. "Kits for other months will be on the following topics: Cross Only at Corners, Look Both Ways Before Crossing, Be Extra Alert on Rainy Days, Know All Rules of the Road, Play Away From Traffic, Walk on Left Facing Traffic, Run Your Safety Patrol, Keep From Between Parked Cars, Wear White After Dark, Watch for Turning Cars."

"Motorists have a real responsibility to help School Safety Patrols do the top-quality job necessary to prevent tragedies involving school children. The presence of a white-bellied Safety Patrol member should be a signal to motorists to slow down and be especially alert for child traffic. Safety Patrol members are taught not to stop or control traffic but to help children cross when there are safe intervals in traffic flow. Motorists can greatly help by slowing down and stopping at hazardous corners to permit children to make a safe crossing."

"Safety Patrols have done a remarkable job of safeguarding their classmates, and coupled with school safety education and fine police work have reduced accidents involving school children by one-third in the past 30 years. Motorists have indicated that they will be present for a day or two to assist."

2 Arrests Grow Out of Whedbee-Smith Case

Virginia Beach police arrested Lewis E. Whedbee and his wife Tuesday night on a charge of bigamy in what was the latest development growing out of an altercation between Whedbee and Leonard Oakley Smith, a Princess Anne County police officer, early on the morning of August 15.

The warrants, along with a separate charge of lewd and lascivious cohabitation, which was lodged against Mrs. Whedbee, were prepared by Assistant Police Justice Clarence Hayman, who on Monday dismissed two charges brought by Whedbee against the police officer.

Battle Demands Dropping of Loyalty Pledge

Governor John S. Battle let it be known earlier this week that he will not attend the 1956 Democratic National Convention unless he has reasonable assurances the party's loyalty pledge will be dropped.

He said the party leaders should realize now they made a terrible mistake in setting up the pledge, and added: "Unless I have reasonable assurances it will be rescinded, I for one will not be at the next convention."

Battle said he thinks the chances are good that the Democratic rally in Chicago September 14-15 will pass a resolution opposing the pledge, which requires those taking it to support the party's presidential ticket and action taken by Democratic conventions.

It is recalled that Battle, on July 14, 1952, led the Virginia delegation in refusing to sign the pledge. Later, the Governor's brief, but dramatic, speech before the full convention led to the seating of Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana without acceptance of the pledge.

Battle, incidentally, will serve on a rules committee along with two other governors at the meeting this month. He probably will be the only Virginian at the meeting, the purpose of which is to try to bring harmony back into Democratic ranks and mend some of the wounds created by the presidential race last year.

Both Senators Byrd and Robertson have indicated they will not be in attendance, while National Committeeman Fred Switzer, of Harrisonburg, said a telephone hearing before the State Corporation Commission will present him from being present.

The ruling also set forth that "on the charge of willfully and feloniously breaking and entering, with intent to commit a felony, intent is an essential part of the crime and must be alleged and proved beyond a reasonable doubt. The facts in the case do not support the charge, but show that Smith went to the house of Mr. Whedbee for the purpose of seeing her, knowing she was there, and with no intent to harm him or anyone else or commit any other crime."

In the original hearing last week, a Navy lieutenant commander, his wife, and another neighbor testified they were awakened August 15 between 2:30 and 3 a.m. by screams from the Whedbee house, and the crying of the Whedbees' three children. They said they heard Smith threaten Whedbee's wife, and that the police arrived, they heard Smith arguing with the officers.

2-Week Cruise in January Slated

The shore excursions for the annual Caribbean cruise of the Virginia Cruise Corporation early next year have been completed by R. Brooks Trayce, executive director, who has returned from a two week tour of the several ports of call.

Trayce, in revealing that elaborate ceremonies will be held at each port, said officials he had talked with were pleased that Governor John S. Battle will head the visiting delegation.

The two week cruise will originate at Norfolk on January 23, 1954. It will be the fifth trip under the VCC or other sponsorship. E. Ashley Haycox, of Birdneck Point, is a member of the VCC's board of directors.

CLARK CHEVROLET CORPORATION, located at 905 17th Street has been selected as the beauty spot of the week. An observer for the Council of Garden Clubs has noted that much interest has been taken in the appearance of the premises. Beautiful evergreen shrubs have been planted, the walls kept properly and the windows always display their merchandise in an attractive setting, thus resulting in this firm's surroundings being an eye-catcher to the 17th Street area. It pays dividends to business firms to maintain attractive places.

Would be no vice, Mr. Clark, if many more would follow the example you have set.

Chamber Ends Drive; Efforts Most Successful

The long awaited moment has finally come for all workers of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce Membership Drive, which ended at midnight August 31st. Congratulations are certainly in order for the drive, and especially to four wonderful people who, without any doubt, worked their hearts out for this Chamber Drive. We point with pride to Mr. James D. Rogers of the State Farm Insurance Companies whose untiring efforts captured first place; and to Miss Jean Kersey of the Atlantic Hotel Coffee Shop, claiming second place in the competition. Special tribute goes to Mrs. Mabel Strothorn, A. A. Architect, and Mr. Henry J. Baker, Marlin's Inn, who placed third and fourth in the contest. Mr. William MacDonald, Chairman of the Membership Drive, sincerely thanks each and everyone who took part in this drive for their continued interest and support. Of particular importance and merit is the fact that the four leaders mentioned above accounted for 116 of the (Continued on Page 2)

Beach Stadium Drive Speeded For Opening Tilt

The Virginia Beach Memorial Stadium is about to become a reality. Work is progressing rapidly and the committee hopes to have it ready for football when the season opens.

The drive for funds is not meeting expectations and all civic minded citizens are urged to get into the drive in immediate action. To date the treasurer of the Memorial Stadium Association reports a collection of $9900.00 to be applied to an estimated cost of $20,000.00 above and beyond what the City Council and Civic Clubs are doing.

The main cost to be paid from contributions is the purchase and erection of the 2540 bleacher seats.

The Virginia Beach Lions Club is putting a fine fence around the stadium at a cost of $3000.00 to their members. The Club plans to sponsor a series of boxing matches this fall and winter to pay for the fence.

The Virginia Beach Rotary Club is installing a complete public address system in the stadium their contribution will amount to approximately $600.00 dollars.

Several individuals and business firms have made substantial contributions. Mr. H. H. Baillio sent 25 loads of sand. Mr. C. H.

Stinguff, $1000 on light poles. The Ocean Suppliers gave a considerable amount of concrete to build the foundations for the bleachers. Mr. Herbert Smith, III drew up the architects plans for the field house. An anonymous donor gave the goal post. The Coca-Cola Company is installing a beautiful electric score board and timer.

The Virginia Beach City Council recently gave $10,000.00 for the purchase and erection of the lights. The final estimate on the cost of the lights is $14,000.00. This will be the best lighted stadium in Virginia. The softball field, a baseball field and a football field will be lighted with 177 of the best light fixtures available.

The stadium is being constructed on City property near the Virginia Beach High School and will be available for High School Athletic events, but this will only be a small part of its total usefulness to the community.

It will be used during the summer as a supervised recreation center for the citizens of all Princess Anne County. The softball activities now carried on at Bayne field will be shifted to the stadium.

The City owns a half block next to the stadium this will be partially cleared of trees and tennis courts put in. Play-ground equipment for the younger children

Martin and Lewis In Hilarious Hit

Those lovable clowns, Martin and Lewis, are coming to the Beach Theatre next week in a hilarious comedy about the ancient and honorable game of golf. The title is "The Caddy."

The story revolves around Lewis trying to teach Martin how to play the game. The movie is enhanced with the appearance of such golfing greats as Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Sam Snead, Jimmy Thomson and Harry Cooper.

The film is filled with new and funny comedy routines by the famous team and Martin sings several pleasing songs. The best songs probably are "What Would-cha Do Without Me" and "That's Amore."

"The Caddy" will open at the Beach Theatre next Wednesday and run for four days.

161 new members who signed up during the campaign.

Mr. John H. Bell, President of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, was quoted as saying "It is with a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction that we announce the results of the first organized membership drive. While we were disappointed at the out-set by the small number of workers who put forth the time and effort to make the drive a success, we are simply amazed at the results accomplished by the fourth leaders. We are deeply indebted to Mr. William MacDonnell and his co-workers for their outstanding leadership during the entire campaign."

At this time, the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce wishes to thank the following workers, other than the four leaders, whose interest and efforts made this drive a success and a memorable accomplishment. Medal Winner's Mother Sees Ship Named for Son Recommissioned

Mrs. Selma O'Hare, mother of Lt. Cmdr. Edward "Butch" O'Hare who won the nation's highest award, the Congressional Medal of Honor, and later lost his life fighting the Japanese in World War Two was present Tuesday, at Norfolk Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, when the radar picket destroyer named for her son was recommissioned.

Mrs. O'Hare was at Orange, Texas, November 29, 1945, when the vessel was originally commissioned there. Her daughter-in-law sponsored and christened the ship at launching. She has since been reappointed to a Naval Academy classmate of her former husband now stationed at Newport, R. I. O'Hare's mother was the only member of his family who was able to be present when Commander W. R. Hummel, USN, the prospective commanding officer, ordered the commissioning pennant broken and the watches set, September 1.

It is appropriate that this latest addition to the fighting fleet is cast in the role of a radar picket destroyer that will operate far distant from the aircraft carriers and give early warning of approaching enemy aircraft. A radar picket destroyer locates closing enemy planes, directs our planes to intercept them, and attempts to rescue any pilots forced to ditch.

O'Hare won the medal of honor when he interposed his plane between an advancing formation of nine attacking bombers, shot down five and damaged a sixth before they could reach their bomb release point. He was subsequently lost during enemy action in the vicinity of Tarawa Atoll.

At the present coach Isaac's is hampered with the usual turnout of minor injuries, an end product of three soft summer months, such as blisters, pulled muscles, and sprains which had four or five candidates working out in light toes on the sidelines. The team is expected to be back at top strength in a few short days and have scheduled a full scale scrimmage with a neighboring school under game conditions Thursday afternoon, September 3rd at 2:00 o'clock thus allowing a preview of things to come and allow the coaches to win out the rough spots before their opener.

All in all the situation looks very optimistic, with the stadium drive well underway, the playing field is being watered and pump-ered to provide a good thick turf, the flood lights are already on the field, and a hard hitting team, well worth the support of every resident at Virginia Beach will be ready to play and win.

Spain, Trinidad, Caracas, Venezuela, Guadalupe, Dominican Republic, and St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, to make arrangements for official receptions for the cruise party.

Reservations for the January cruise aboard the 15,000-ton liner SS Maasdam, are now being accepted at the cruise office in the Monticello Hotel.

The annual ocean voyage to Latin America and the Caribbean is sponsored by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, the Norfolk Port Authority, and the 21st Street Business Area Association.

Home Owners of County Making Improvements

Princess Anne County home owners will spend an estimated $1,250,000 during 1933 on repairing and modernizing non-farm dwellings.

"As the great postwar home building boom begins to slacken, home repair and reconditioning will assume major importance to the building trades in every community," said Robert Bailey, chairman of the residential construction committee of the Tile Council of America, which released the estimate.

Nearly two of every three home owners here will make some expenditure during the year to improve their property, according to the report. Painting of either the exterior or interior will be the most common repair, with replacing or repairing roofs second.

One of every 11 homes in the U. S. has water pipes repaired, a bathroom tiled or a shower stall installed in an average year, the report revealed. Six of every 10 have carpentry work done. The kitchen is the area most families want to improve. The resulting demand for new major equipment, clay tile for counter tops and drainboards, and kitchen cabinets means properly equipped and for skilled workmen, the report points out.

Home repair expenditures throughout the nation will total almost $4 billion in 1933, the Tile Council report estimated. This will be one of the heaviest outlays in U. S. history for such work.

The Potomac River valley above Washington is rich in Indian remains. Little has been done to investigate them.

Mailhes Takes Title Honors at Princess Anne Country Club

Putting aside the typewriter in favor of driver and putter, Al Mailhes, business manager of the Sun-News, on Saturday took the measure of the best players of the Princess Anne Country Club and walked off with the club championship. Winning 4 and 3 round was a nip and tuck affair, in the 36-hole final, Mailhes putter was as hot as the thermometer, while his opponent in the round, George R. Guy, was having difficulty with the same club. Played under a broiling sun, Mailhes took the lead at the championship match outset with birdie-four on the first hole. He went two up with a birdie-three on the third hole. Guy rallied to win four, six, seven and eight, but Mailhes got back on his game to take the ninth hole. Guy led at the end of nine holes, 1 up. The back nine on the morning championship, Mailhes winning the 18th hole. Mailhes' medal was 76 to Guy's 77. Mailhes won the 19th hole with a par, and led, Guy at the end of 27 holes, 3 up. Mailhes was one-under par, with a 34. Guy was one over. Winning the 30th, 31st and 34th holes, Mailhes, former LSU links star, closed over the Virginia Beach motel operator on the 34th hole.

In the other flights, Cecil Carpenter defeated John B. Smith, 5 and 4, to cop second flight honors.

Dr. John O. Ryden won the fourth flight by default, and T. C. Clarke defeated Al Kouri, 6 and 5, to win the fifth flight. A team match is scheduled for Wednesday at 1 o'clock, and presentation of prizes will take place at a dinner that night. The ladies have been invited to attend this event.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

By JOHN O. HART, County Farm Agent

"FAIR SEASON" COMING UP

Wednesday, September 9th, is the All Important opening date of the county "Fair Season" for 1953. This is the day the Princess Anne County Fair, sponsored by the Princess Anne Ruritan Club and the Princess Anne Woman's Club, will get under way at Seaside Park in Virginia Beach. The Fair grounds will be open Wednesday morning for the placing of exhibits, with official Opening Ceremonies starting that night at 8 p.m. The four days of gay activity will feature many excellent programs, being highlighted Saturday night with the crowning of "Miss Princess Anne" of 1953.

The opening date for the Norfolk Tide-Lands Fair, formerly known as the Tri-County Fair, will be Monday, September 14th. The Kempsville Ruritan Club has also scheduled an excellent program for their six-day Fair to be held at the Arcade. Exhibits will be accepted during the morning of September 14th. Both of our County Fairs are offering a complete set of classes for both farm and home exhibits. Our County "Fair-Season" can only be successful if you as a Princess Anne farmer give your full support to their programs. I certainly hope that each and every farm family of the County will consider carefully the possibility of entering one or more exhibits. The success or failure of these two Fairs rests on your support and participation. Many of our farmers and 4-H members are planning to take advantage of the opportunity of entering their best exhibits from our County Fair at the Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond. The opening date for the State Fair is September 28th. For further information concerning your exhibits for either the County Fairs or the Atlantic Rural Exposition, contact this office: Cameron Menden, Chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the Princess Anne County Fair; or Bill Johnson, chairman of the Norfolk Tide-Lands Fair.

FARM FLOCKS TO GET ATTENTION

Attention! Poultry Flock Owners of Princess Anne County. Mr. Harry L. Moore, head of the Extension Poultry Department of VPI will be here in the County September 8th and 9th to visit our farm flocks. This program of Poultry Flock Improvement was started two years ago in an attempt to assist our flock owners with a better feeding and management program. Mr. Moore has seen a great deal of improvement in our farm flock management. Our farmers are to be congratulated on the fine work they are doing in increasing their efficiency. It is becoming increasingly important to do an economical job of handling the farm poultry flock.

Grow your own Fertilizer with Cover Crops this Winter. Suppose each acre of your farm was a fertilizer factory that worked over the winter with no attention from you. And come spring you found on each acre twenty one-hundred pound bags of high grade fertilizer already evenly distributed. This is what a Winter Cover cropping program will do for you this fall.

COVER CROPS CUT FEED COSTS

Cover crops planted this fall will mean a smaller winter-feed bill. In addition to supplying much needed grazing, cover crops

'Accidents Don't Have to Happen' Says Col. Woodson

"They simply didn't have to happen," said Colonel C. W. Woodson, Jr., Superintendent of State Police and Executive Chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, today as he referred to the 15 fatal traffic accidents which killed 21 people in Virginia over a recent week end to give the state the highest toll in the nation for that period. At the same time, Colonel Woodson issued a plea to motorists that they drive more carefully and guard against driver error during the forthcoming, and equally dangerous, Labor Day week end.

"In the investigation reports of the fatal accidents," he said, "speed crops up with dreary frequency and we find also such faults as driving while drinking, falling asleep and improper passing. These driver errors indicate indulgence in exactly what all safety officials warn against on such holidays—attempts to cover too much distance in too little time and when tired." Colonel Woodson said he was aware of the fact that it is natural that people wish to spend as much time as possible at their destinations and this presents a temptation to speed and take chances both going and coming. However, he pointed to the record of what can happen when the highways are crowded with many drivers with the same feelings.

State's Hospital Facilities For TB Patients Very Short

Hospital facilities for treatment of tuberculosis patients in Virginia are acutely short, especially for negroes, it was pointed out recently by Dr. Charles W. Scott, Superintendent and Medical Director of Piedmont sanatorium. The Piedmont hospital which is located at Burkeville is at present the only state hospital for negro patients.

"We are now admitting men whose applications were received in December, 1952 and women who applied in February 1953," Dr. Scott said. "I get urgent telephone calls and letters from people every day stating that these patients are in crowded homes where it is practically impossible to isolate them," he continued.

The waiting list of patients seeking admission to Piedmont had grown to 280 by the middle of August. Concerning the possibility of "Driving too fast not only makes an accident more likely to happen but more severe if it does happen. In addition, it places a strain on the driver which acts against his best efforts and is conducive to falling asleep at the wheel. Drinking and driving is all too prevalent and should not need to bring forth a warning."

The safety official closed with one pertinent thought. "Drive defensively; you don't have to be at fault yourself to be involved in traffic trouble."

Alice Brewer White Going With WSAP on Sept. 10th

FIRST BROADCAST WILL CONCERN PRINCESS ANNE'S COUNTY FAIR; TYPE OF PROGRAM TO BE UNCHANGED

Alice Brewer White, fashion and woman's director of WTAR for over seven-and-a-half years, will join the staff of Radio Station WSAP on Sept. 10. This was announced last week by Charles J. Duke, Jr., president of WSAP which joins the National Broadcasting Company on September 19 when the call letters of the station will change to WAVY. As fashion and woman's director of WAVY, Mrs. White will continue to present the same type of show she has been giving to her listeners in the past and the same time from 9 to 9:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday. A late afternoon program is also planned. Her first program for WSAP will be a transcribed report of the opening night festivities of the Princess Anne County Fair which she will tape-record next Wednesday evening on the Fair Grounds at Seaside Park immediately following the opening exercises when Mayor P. F. Murray, Judge Floyd Kellam and R. E. Thompson, Fair general chairman, will appear. The young women who are entered in the Miss Princess Anne contest will also appear on this program to be heard the following morning at 9 a.m. by dialing to 1350.

Red Cross Book Collections Aid Worthy Causes

From its collections of old magazines and books turned into Princess Anne Chapter, American Red Cross, located in the Community House, Mrs. Stuart Mallory, executive secretary, has made two worthwhile contributions. The first consisted of a large group of both fiction and non-fiction books, augmented with games which were placed onboard a United States Naval ship scheduled to go to sea for several months. The Chapter's second contribution was a box of books turned over to Virginia Beach High School for use in the library. Any local resident having unwanted reading material is requested to donate it to the Red Cross for worthwhile placement.

We often hear, "Oh! that was food fit for a king," and very often it is lobster. The lobster is the King of all shellfish. It belongs to the Decapodae family and, like the crab, is a scavenger of the ocean. Lobsters are found in most parts of the world, along our shores from Labrador, southward, usually near the rocky shores at depths from 60 to 120 feet. They feed at this level, seldom rising more than a few feet above the bottom. In summer the warmer coastal waters attract lobster closer inshore, the supply of shellfish increases, much to the delight of lobster lovers. Lobsters are larger and more abundant from June to September, but can be obtained all year round. When taken from the water, the shells are usually dark green in color. I am told that lobsters found on sandy bottoms are more tender, however, I am not an authority on that. I always thought the lobster was never red, until it had been cooked. I did look this question up and Wise's Encyclopedia of Cooking, does not verify this. As you know when food is abundant, the price usually declines and those of us who like lobsters can hardly wait for that "abundant time" to really come around.

need:

- 1 lb. lobster meat
- 1 stick of butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- Dash of nutmeg
- 2 cups of thin cream
- 2 egg yolks
- 1/2 cup sherry

STRAIGHT From the SHOULDER

..... Fashion, That Is!

By ALICE BREWER WHITE

Fashion-Woman's Editor

(Tune in to WTAR's "Woman's World" Program, 9-9:30 Monday through Saturday, for Fall fashion news and Albee's chatter about interesting events.)

COLD-WEATHER COTTONS—Cotton's in season this Fall because cottons have become favorites for all-season wear. Right cottons are styled for wear right through the winter. Velveteens, denims and corduroys, as well as many new cotton tweeds in important new weights, and with special finishes to give them added fashion and service appeal will be cold-weather favorites featured by our leading American designers. The versatility of cotton has never shown to better advantage than in cotton suitings and tweeds. They range from the simple cotton serge to the most sophisticated types. Tailored suits and dresses in cotton menswear suitings, tweeds to withstand soiling and to shed wrinkles when hung a few hours will be good.

"KEG" SILHOUETTE—Definitely newsworthy is Lorraine Rudny's "keg" shirt jacket in striped denim. This "keg" silhouette is a contrast in widths—wide across the top, drawn gently toward the waist, hip-length at the hem. It's straight in the back and is appealing to young career girls and college girls alike.

COTTON COATS—Designers of every type outfit feature cotton this fall and rainwear houses show water-repellent cottons in fitted as well as flared coats and on many different fabrics including prints. The printed coat is news this season; fur prints as well as plaids are featured. Printed coats are dramatic and fun to wear, fun to look at, too. SCHOOL begins this month... days are getting shorter... and this is the month when many children develop (school) class hatred... because many parents take Lighting lightly!

Doctors agree that poor lighting can cause poor grades in school as well as headaches, fatigue and nervousness. These are the symptoms of eyestrain. They often mean the damage has already been done.

Don't risk your children's precious sight. Help their eyes now at the beginning of the school year. Give them enough of the right kind of light to study by... an individual Study Lamp scientifically designed to provide soft, glareless light... a Study Lamp using a 100- or 150-watt bulb will make seeing easier... and protect precious eyes.

Ford Production At New High

Production of passenger cars and trucks at the Ford Division assembly plant at Norfolk, Va., has reached an all-time high. G. L. Lemoine, plant manager, announced today.

Output thus far this year is more than double the like period in 1948, he said.

Output thus far this year is more than double the like period in 1948, he said.

Payrolls likewise are the highest since the assembly plant, only such industry in Virginia, began production in 1926 with the Model T.

The plant turned out 10,608 Ford passenger cars and trucks in July to break the previous record of 8,305 units set in April, 1952, Mr. Lemoine said.

The July total included 8,620 passenger cars, 34.2 per cent more than April, and 1,988 trucks, 5.6 per cent more than in April.

The plant's 1,499 hourly and 213 salaried employees received paychecks totaling $829,607 in July, an increase of 25 percent over the previous monthly record, also set last April.

Mr. Lemoine estimated that August levels will about equal July's.

During the first seven months of this year, the Norfolk plant assembled 49,459 vehicles, including 41,145 passenger cars and 8,314 trucks.

The total for the first seven months of 1953 was 23,253, including 19,433 passenger cars and 3,820 trucks.

The plant serves dealers in Virginia, Maryland, District of Columbia, North Carolina, Florida, and Georgia.

Since the early 1930's, Canada has been the world's principal producer of the precious platinum group of metals. Prior to that time Colombia and then Russia were the main sources of world supply. Recent developments in South Africa are making that country an increasingly important source.

will also protect your land against "OLD MAN WINTER." It will prevent the leaching of soil nutrients, and at the same time add needed organic matter to your soil. The planting of Cover Crops on your corn land should be a must.

Make your plans now to seed cover crops on your fields as the corn and soybean crops are harvested. The recommended rates of seeding crimson clover and ryegrass are 15 pounds of each per acre. Small grain used alone should be seeded at the rate of two to four bushels. The latest seeding date for a crimson clover and ryegrass mixture is about October 15th. Ryegrass can be seeded as late as the first of December and still give good results. It is recommended that you use four to six hundred pounds of 0-14-14 or 2-12-12 per acre on land seeded with crimson clover. Winter cover crops following heavily fertilized crops may give good results without the use of any additional fertilizer. One good tip is the management of your winter cover crop is to encourage your clover seed. This is particularly important if clover has not been grown for a number of years. Early seeding will mean earlier grazing. Another important point is never to graze your cover crops any closer than two to three inches. In the spring plan to turn your cover crops under at least thirty days before the planting date of the next crop. This will allow time for the cover crop to decay.

Consider carefully the opportunity that you have in reducing next year's fertilizer bill through the use of Cover Crops this fall. You will find that a seeding of Crimson Clover or Small Grain will pay dividends next spring. Make plans now to Grow Your Own Fertilizer.

PLACE BREAD ON WIRE RACKS TO COOL

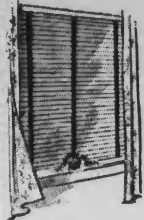

Remove bread and rolls from the baking pan as soon as they come from the oven. If you do this, moisture won't form, and the breads will have a nice crispy underneath crust and a light crumb. To cool bread and rolls before storing them, place them on wire racks or across the edges of baking pans so that air may circulate around them. When thoroughly cooled, bread and rolls may be stored in bread boxes or large crocks. Wrap individual loaves in waxed paper or foil to keep them fresh as long as possible.

Jobs Should Not Interfere With Education, Says Dept. of Labor

With the fall opening of the nation's public schools within a matter of days, officials of the U. S. Department of Labor here are planning to do everything possible to keep illegal employment from interfering with youthful education.

"For boys and girls not yet graduated, the most important job is training and education," says Regional Director William M. Eaves of the Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions here. "Unlawful employment should not keep them out of school."

To explain unlawful employment, Eaves pointed out that in enacting the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act, Congress made it illegal to employ children under 16 years of age in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for interstate commerce, in most instances.

In agriculture, it is unlawful to employ children under 16 during school hours if the farm products concerned go into interstate or foreign commerce.

Since the law was enacted some years ago, he said he hoped it was now understood that the law applies equally to local resident children and to migratory children. It does not apply to a farmer's own children working on their parent's farm. Farmers are responsible under the law if they employ under-age children during school hours.

He said "school hours" means those hours when school is in session for the school district where the child under 16 is currently living. If local authorities decide to close the local school for several days during a peak harvesting season it is, of course, not considered to be in session at that time.

Furthermore, he said, the law sets no minimum age for the employment of minors in agriculture before or after school hours, nor at any time on school holidays, or during school vacations.

"Ignorance, poverty, and evil are closely allied," he said. "With Congress showing the way, it behooves all of us to lend intelligent co-operation in the matter of educating the nation's youthful citizens," he declared.

USE SCALDED MILK

Scald fresh milk to be used in making yeast breads. Then cool it to lukewarm before combining with yeast mixture. Scalding stops the enzyme action which might otherwise cause some softening of the dough. Scalded milk makes a dough that is easier to handle. Scalding the milk also improves bread texture and flavor.

There are as many as 750,000 tiny air cells in an ordinary bottle cork.

Postmaster Post Exam to be Given

The first examination for Postmaster at Lynnhaven, Virginia, $3,500 a year, under new, more exacting eligibility requirements recently agreed upon by the U. S. Civil Service Commission and the Post Office Department will be open for receipt of applications until September 22, 1953, the Commission announced today.

All previously existing postmaster examinations for first, second, and third class post offices and lists of eligibles were cancelled recently. Higher standards of eligibility were prescribed for the filling of more than 1,700 vacant positions throughout the country.

The Commission is taking all possible steps through special publicity to let it be known that organizations to encourage well qualified persons to apply for the examination.

Competitors for the postmaster vacancy in this city must show that they can deal with the public gracefully and effectively and that they are reliable citizens who would command the respect and confidence of patrons of the post office. They must also show that their background will enable them to maintain simple records of accounts or that it has given them knowledge of postal procedures.

Applicants must take a written test. Those who pass will be assigned final ratings on the basis of this test and on their experience, ability, and character. There is a one-year residence requirement and applicants must be at least 21 years of age and must not have passed their sixty-third birthday.

Complete information about the examination requirements and instructions for filing applications may be obtained at the post office for which this examination is being announced. Application forms must be received in the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, 25, D. C., not later than the closing date.

USE LEVEL MEASUREMENTS
For failure-proof baking, use tested recipes. Follow recipes accurately. Use accurate measuring utensils, such as graded measuring spoons, liquid measuring cups, and nested measuring cups for dry ingredients. Always use level measurements.

In the 13 years of the great migration, 1630-1642, nearly 20,000 Englishmen sailed for the New World to settle in and around Massachusetts Bay colony.

You're the winner in this league!
Telephone people compete among themselves to give you the best possible service. And they keep score on their work just as carefully as the big leagues tally a season's games. Rivalry for top ratings in the telephone "league" is keen among exchanges, departments, and even city companies. Of course, you are the real winner—for this kind of competition means better telephone service!

Road block on the voice way
When you've finished your telephone call, please take care to hang up properly. A receiver off the hook ties up an entire line. That means that no one on that line will be able to make or receive calls until the receiver has been replaced. Think of the calls you may be missing—calls that could be important. And you're being considerate of the others on your line when you take care in hanging up.

House the late pullets... Check ventilation in poultry houses... Get the younger set ready for school... Adjust mash and grain consumption to egg production... Give the fall-born calf a break; proper feeding and good care will pay... Paint roofs to prevent rust, and add gutters and downspouts... Repair porch floors and outside steps to prevent accidents... Improve or install yard lighting for convenience and safety... Cut strawflowers for winter bouquets... Plant some spinach and radishes... Plant small grains for winter pasture... Self-feed sows to force the fall pig crop along.

COUNTY IS SCENE OF MILITARY SPENDING

Princess Anne County, believe it or not, is the setting for the heaviest army of military construction in Virginia at the present time.

No estimate is available as to the total investment being made in expanding the Navy's huge jet base at Oceana, but it will go into many millions of dollars.

A clearer picture of what is going on at the Amphibious Base in the Little Creek area is available with the announcement that the work now under way and projected will cost in the neighborhood of $40 million.

Navy funds available include appropriations of $3 million from 1951; $29 million from 1952, and some $8 million from 1953. Although designated as a permanent base since 1946, the first funds were appropriated for the conversion in 1950. Erection of permanent buildings started in 1951.

Rear Adm. Rufus E. Rose, USN, commander, Amphibious Training Command, Atlantic Fleet, said: "We are going to make a permanent authorized amphibious base here the same as any other permanent base in the Navy. In the long run an American boy who goes into the amphibious force should have as good a place to sleep as his brother in other branches."

The base, incidentally, will have the world's largest barracks, a 1,500 men facility which could accommodate half as many more men if necessary. Another barracks building will be in the 750-man class.

At least eight housing subdivisions are under construction along the Little Creek Road and Military Highway as a result of the work under way at the amphibious base.

Scheduled to be opened next week are four new re-inforced concrete piers for LST's and smaller craft, complete with 1,500 feet of bulkhead to hold back water in Little Creek Cove, Little Creek Harbor. The contract bid of $1,588,000 on this project is being completed by the McLean Construction Company of Baltimore.

A $750,000 project will provide utilities for eight existing piers, complete with steam, electricity and water facilities on the waterfront of Annapolis Two on the opposite side of Little Creek Harbor.

On land leased from the Pennsylvania Railroad, repairs are being made to a bulkhead that will make it possible for small craft to fuel and load provisions at the southern end of Little Creek Channel.

The base also is the scene of many other construction projects designed to add to the convenience and comfort of the amphibious trooper.

COOKE PTA MEETS NEXT MONDAY

Mrs. Edward H. Renn and Mrs. Alay Cohen, co-program chairmen, announced that there will be a short humorous play. All members are urged to be present.

County Sends $5,000 For Polio Epidemic Work

The Princess Anne County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has just forwarded $5,000 of its local funds to National Headquarters at New York in response to an appeal from President Basil O'Connor, it was announced today by Mrs. Wallace Clark, Chairman of the Chapter.

"We are proud and happy to be able to share our funds with children whom we have been assisting because of various attacks of polio. The Epidemic Aid Fund administered by the Headquarters of the Foundation," she continued, "has had to spend $5,000,000 for Gamma Globulin, and nearly one-half million dollars for field trials of a possible vaccine—field trials whose certainty is now apparent. Richard A. Jones, City Treasurer, Dies Following Protracted Illness

Richard A. Jones, a veteran city official and a resident of Virginia Beach for the last 25 years, died Monday afternoon at his residence, 3904 Atlantic Avenue, following an extended illness. He was 67.

A lifelong resident of Norfolk and Virginia Beach, "Dick" was treasurer and city clerk of Virginia Beach for the past 10 years. He was the son of the late William Mordcaid and Mrs. Martha Jordan Lee Jones.

Aside from his political following, Jones is remembered as a familiar figure in baseball in the days of the Virginia League when he was secretary-treasurer and part owner of the Norfolk Tars from 1926-32.

Subsequently he was connected with Pacific Mutual Insurance Company in Norfolk and with the Gay Minor Hotel in Virginia Beach. He was a member and vestryman of the Galilee Episcopal Church and an active member in the resort city's Lions Club. He was also associated with a number of other organizations and movements.

Beach Visitor Dodges Publicity

Virginia Beach sparked briefly in the national spotlight last week-end when Warren L. Stephenson, alleged to have quoted classified information to a manufacturer of rocket launchers, was a visitor at the ocean-front home of a relative by marriage.

Not only did Stephenson decline to make a statement to the press, but managed to stay out of sight by relying his disincorporation to

Son of Local Man Released; Would Like 2nd Chance At 'Red' Captors

James Bailey, an employee of the Virginia Beach Post Office, is in Mount Pleasant, Tenn., for a reunion with his son, 2nd Lieut. James V. Bailey, 26, who was released recently after being held as a prisoner of war by the Communist since the Spring of 1951.

Lieutenant Bailey, who presumably headed directly for Mount Pleasant to rejoin his wife, recently wired his father, as follows:

"Hi Dad. Never so happy to be an American as today. Am in good Army hospital getting wonderful care. Feel like a new man already. Don't worry about me. Roll out the barrel and strike up the band. Can't wait to see you again."

Bailey was captured May 21, 1951, in the Red's last offensive. He was serving with the Third ROK Division as an advisor. Chinese infiltrated behind the unit, and Bailey and seven other Americans dodged the Reds for four days.

"We thought we had it made," he said. "We were just a few hundred yards from our lines when we spotted a patrol of Koreans in American uniforms and carrying American weapons. We greeted them and suddenly found our arms pinned behind us."

The lieutenant said the Reds grilled him so long for military information "I went off my rocker. I threw up on a Chinese. The doctor said no one in his right mind would throw up on a Chinese, so he said I had cracked up. They let me alone after that."

Bailey said, "I hate them. I wouldn't go home if I could get another chance at them."

Andrews to Speak At Utilities Meet Here Next Week

State Democrats Open Richmond Campaign Office

Sidney S. Kellam, campaign manager for Thomas S. Stanley, Democratic candidate for governor, advised the Virginia Beach Sun-News early this week that State headquarters will be opened in the Richmond Hotel, Richmond, on Wednesday.

Ray, of Fairfax County, will be office manager. Kellam said. Lacy reading clerk of the State Senate, was administrative assistant to former Governor Tucker during his term of office.

He served as headquarters manager for Stanley during the primary campaign earlier this year and in the same capacity for Senator Byrd during his primary campaign last year for re-election to the United States Senate.

Democratic headquarters, Kellam said, will be in Room 372, the same group used in the primary race and which was occupied by Governor Battle and Senator Byrd during their campaigns.

Miss Jean Bailey, of Orange County, and Mrs. Miriam Jones, of Richmond, will be assistants to Lacy.

RECEIVES CIVITAN AWARD

Jones, Solenberger Cited By Civitans for Work Here

In recognition of a job "well done" in accordance with the standards of the Civitan club, this organization has presented two local residents with its coveted national awards given for outstanding service in stimulating better citizenship. At the club's regular dinner meeting in the Paramount Restaurant, R. Stanley Hudgins, club president presented Civitan Awards to Mrs. E. R. Solenberger and Chief Petty Officer George Jones, U. S. N., who were in charge of the summer swimming classes for beginners sponsored by the Princess Anne Chapter, American Red Cross, at the Surf Club.

The classes, which attracted 700 boys and girls, were organized after Mrs. Solenberger, who also is publicity chairman for the chapter, asked Harold E. Jones, chapter chairman, if summer swimming were sponsored. His negative answer was followed with the suggestion that it would be a good idea. Shortly thereafter the Surf Club, Jimmie Fox, manager, as a gesture of civic good will, contributed the use of the pool.

From June 15 to August 15, Chief Jones divided his time between Virginia Beach Shore Patrol Headquarters where he was then temporarily stationed and the Surf Club. Although he had looked forward to conducting classes for more advanced swimmers his assigned Navy job as gunnery instructor at Fleet Air Defense Training Center, Dam Neck, necessitated his three absences.

Another honor guest at the Civitan dinner was Captain Harold P. Crist, U. S. N., Chief of staff, commanding officer at P.A.D.T., Dam Neck, whose former job as executive officer on the U. S. S. Mississippi is now held by Cmdr. Solenberger.

Beach High-Churchland Game Postponed Until Saturday Night

The Virginia Beach Seabawks opener originally scheduled for Friday, Sept. 11 at Memorial Stadium, due to unforeseen delay in the stadium project, has been postponed until the following night, Sept. 12.

This delay, slight as it is, allows Coach Isaacs more time to mold his charges into playing form and permit a few bruised and ailing Seabawks to recuperate more fully.

The outlook for Virginia Beach's 1953-54 season jumped several points on the statistical thermometer during the past week due to the turnout of a newcomer, George Sanderlin, a transfer student from Kempsville who held the quarterback post for Kempsville last season.

Sanderlin, possessing plenty of speed and know-how should go a long way towards rounding out the already strong Seabawk backfield.

Coach Isaacs has Sanderlin running from the right halfback slot along with another speedster, Sonny Halstead, who also is capable of going all the way anytime he gets the ball.

At quarterback is senior 155 pound Bobby Luedeke who will handle the chores under the center and probably be called on for the majority of passing to be done.

At fullback is big Jim Standing who should prove to be a head-sache to any and all opposition.

ceated his return to his duties there. Chief Jones resides with Mrs. Jones in Oceana where he plans to settle permanently when he retires. The Jones' now have three daughters, Russell, age five; Carolyn, age three, and a new daughter, only a week old.

Chief Jones supervised one life saving course and awarded life saving certificates to 17 boys and girls many of whom later assisted in teaching beginners. Among them were Philip and John Gillette, Betsy and Sally Sutherland, Joe Fineman, Fred Bailey, Sally Hill, Sandy Webster, Ronnie Hedley, Jim Fox, John and Bob Solenberger, Wendy and Gail Dunstan, Robert Wood. Two adults, Mrs. John Shaw, a qualified Red Cross instructor, and Mrs. Charles Fuller were among others who worked in the progress of the course.

Care of registration and class supervision went to Mrs. Solenberger, who is the wife of Cmdr. E. K. Solenberger, U. S. N., recently named on the selection list for promotion to captain. She has done publicity and Gray Lady work with Red Cross Chapters in Wellesey, Mass., San Diego and San Francisco, Calif. The Solenbergers reside in Luncheon park with their three sons.

Another honor guest at the Civitan dinner was Captain Harold P. Crist, U. S. N., Chief of staff, commanding officer at P.A.D.T., Dam Neck, whose former job as executive officer on the U. S. S. Mississippi is now held by Cmdr. Solenberger.

who has to stop his 195 pound frame on those line plunges.

Up front there is a well balanced forward wall sparked by Co-Captain 194 pound Bobby Derring, who is expected to be recovered sufficiently from a blood clot on his jaw sustained in practice. Derring has proven his ability to take the hard knocks and he is expected to give much more than he receives throughout the season.

Coaches Fred Isaacs, Jim Cooke and Jack Burke have put in long hard hours in preparation for their opener, and are to be commended for a job well done.

Coach Isaacs, not being overconfident toward his boys, reassuringly says their team spirit is very high, they are ready to play ball, and it will take a mighty good team to turn them back.

Saturday nights game will mark a milestone in Virginia Beach athletic history as it is the first game to be played at the new Memorial Stadium, located at 25th and Mediterranean, built by the general public. The Virginia Beach Seabawks still a long way from completion the stadium will boast the very best in lighting.

Bleacher seats will be ready for Saturdays game.

Make your plans now to take family and friends to the ball game Saturday night, which pits traditional rivals Churchland against the Virginia Beach Seabawks, in what should be a bang-up ball game from start to finish.

COUNTY FAIR UNDERWAY; GALA EVENT

The fourth annual fair under the sponsorship of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and the Princess Anne Ruritan Club is in full swing at Seaside Park and will continue in high gear through Saturday.

A parade Wednesday afternoon was the opening fanfare for the parade, but the curtain was not lifted officially until that night when Mayor F. P. Murray and Judge Floyd E. Kellam were on hand to participate in the opening ceremonies. R. E. Thompson and Mrs. Wallace Clark, co-chairmen of the fair, also were on the program, along with Mrs. R. H. Owen, president of the Women's Club and chairman of social events during the four-day showing.

Whedbees Freed; Peace Bond for Smith Pending

Lewis E. Whedbee and his wife, Constance, were freed last Saturday of charges growing out of or subsequent to an altercation which occurred early on the morning of August 15 at the Whedbee residence in the 800 block of Twentieth Street.

In their latest court appearance, a warrant charging Whedbee with bigamy was dismissed by Assistant Police Justice J. Clarence Hayman, who also dismissed a warrant charging Mrs. Whedbee with lewd and lascivious cohabitation.

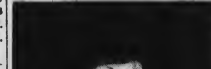

Earlier Police Sgt. R. K. Halstead, who procured the warrants, testified that he was unable to say of his own knowledge that Whedbee was the man named in two documents presented in the evidence. The documents were a divorce decree naming Lewis E. Whedbee and dated July 3, 1952, and what purported to be a certificate showing the marriage of a man named Whedbee to Mrs. Whedbee in North Carolina June 27, 1953.

In being examined by Defense Attorney James E. Smith, Halstead said he was "unable to give any more evidence than I have in these two documents."

A sidelight of the hearing was a query by Hayman to Health as to whether the latter was licensed to practice in Virginia to which the counsel replied that he was and stood ready to take an oath on the question.

IN CONTEST

Miss Dolly White, sponsored by American Legion Post 113, is the seventh entry in the "Miss Princess Anne" contest being held in connection with the Princess Anne County Fair. Pictures of the other contestants were printed last week.

The fair has been a colorful period in Princess Anne County, intermittently since 1919. H. W. Olin, of Lynnhaven, until recently county agent, acted as secretary. Reporting this early fall, Olin wrote in his fair book that there were 84 prizes at a cash value of $132.50, including $15 offered by D. Stormont for the best mule calf as a special prize.

Last year, Mrs. Kenneth Clark, chairman of prizes, said 135 prizes were prescribed "and this year we expect to have more."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Olin were active in these four early fairs.

"We had old fashioned tournaments," Olin said. This was a demonstration of good riding and horsemanship. Riders would catch rings and the winner was the man who caught the most rings, would crown the queen of the choice at a ball clime and ending the fair.

TIPPING THE CHAPEAU

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Saunders, braced at 114 54th Street, has been selected by the Council of Garden Clubs as the beauty spot of the week. As one can readily see, it is close to the ocean and there has been so much controversy over whether this or that will thrive near the ocean spray, it is suggested that a drive by the beautifully landscaped grounds residence will prove that "where there's a will there's a way."

Low evergreen shrubs surround the home in addition to a lower border of colorful bulbs in the early spring followed by summer flowering plants. The property extends over a two-acre white fence, thereby giving the property every advantage to enjoy the unobscured beauty created by Mr. and Mrs. Saunders. A rose garden and various flowering shrubs thrive through their effort, in spite of what has been said about the adverse effects of proximity of a colorful garden to the salt spray from the ocean.

Anyone interested in a pretty garden should by no means pass up the opportunity of taking a look at the one maintained by Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Saunders.

(Note: An observer for the Council of Garden Clubs will select a beauty spot each week.)

EAT VARIETY OF FOODS

Nutrition really isn't such a technical or difficult idea, though it seems so to many people. It's just a name that scientists give to the work your body does each day in changing the food you eat into parts of you. "Good" nutrition comes from eating a variety of foods, not eating just one or two kinds. We are fortunate that our country has abundant supplies of the various foods recommended for good nutrition. Those recommended foods are: fruits; vegetables; milk and other dairy products; enriched or whole grain bread, flour and cereals; and meats, poultry, fish and eggs. These foods, in combination, are the basis of a health-giving diet.

Johnson Named Defendant in Suit In Norfolk Court

W. Taylor Johnson, president of the Mayflower Corporation, and developer of the 16-story Mayflower Apartments, the resort's largest structure, is the defendant in an action brought in the Norfolk Circuit Court by a former associate, F. A. Van Patten and his wife, who is seeking to have a receiver appointed for the corporation.

The plaintiffs, through their attorney, William L. Parker, ask that the interests of the minority stockholder be protected and that Johnson be required to restore funds to the corporation which he is alleged to have taken without authorization.

The Mayflower Corporation is owner of the 16-story Mayflower apartment building at Virginia Beach. According to the suit, Johnson and his wife, Mrs. Foye K. Johnson, own 52 per cent of the stock, and the Van Pattens own the remaining 48 per cent.

In the suit, Van Patten made these recitations: He was in a high position with the Federal Housing Authority prior to June 30, 1948, when he resigned to enter Johnson's employ at a salary of $1,000 per month.

A few months later, the suit said, Johnson approached him with an idea whereby they would go into a partnership in the apartment project. Van Patten would supply his knowledge of the workings of the FHA and Johnson would supply temporary capital which amounted to $154,947. By agreement no officer was to be paid for his service.

After the building was constructed, the suit continued, Johnson caused six per cent interest bearing notes to be issued by the Mayflower Corporation to himself and his wife in the amount of $100,000.

When W. R. Asburn resigned from the board of directors, his place was filled by Henry H. Johnson, brother of W. Taylor Johnson, and Taylor Johnson was voted a salary of $1,000 per month as president of the corporation, the suit recited. The suit further claims that Taylor Johnson performs no service for the Mayflower.

"Common Glory" Revenues Up

Jameson Corporation officials uncrossed their fingers and breathed a sigh of relief as "Common Glory" attendance figures were tabulated this week.

When there were still two weeks to go, 1953 revenues surpassed 1952. The third week in August was financially the most successful not only in the current season but in the play's entire seven year history. And the fourth week is expected to better the third.

"Since the purpose of 'The Glory' is to educate the people of America in the history of Virginia and the fundamentals of democracy," said Executive Vice-President Alvin H. Matthews, the number of people who see it annually can be considered a valid indication of the degree of success.

He added that since the Jameson Corporation is an unincorporated, non-profit organization, the continuance of the production is predicated upon making both ends meet. There have been seasons, notably 1948, when rain-outs threw the production into the red. This season's success will help to make up the deficit.

BAND TUNING UP FOR OYSTER BOWL

According to an announcement by Mr. J. A. Johnson, Jr., principal of the Virginia Beach High School Band, the band has started practicing in preparation for the Oyster Bowl game and their home football games. They will practice each week day morning at 9:30 a.m. in the band room at the high school. Band uniforms have been ordered and expect to see five thousand in the very near future.

In addition to many foreign countries, every state in the Union has been represented this year. The band state, Missouri, showed up Sunday night, August 23, Pennsylvania, which held fifth place last year in the number of out-of-state patrons, has caught up with, and is likely to surpass North Carolina, which has held first place up until this year.

Ever since the first season the ratio of out-of-staters to Virginians has been increasing. Virginia patrons this year represent approximately 40 percent of the total attendance.

DAR Chapter Holds Luncheon

The Princess Anne County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution held a luncheon meeting Saturday for its Board members and committee chairmen.

Reports were given of work accomplished during the summer and plans were made for the coming year.

The chaplain read a Resolution of Condolence to be recorded with the chapter's files, a copy of which will be sent to the family of the late Rebecca Cooke Herbert, organizing regent of the Princess Anne County Chapter. Mrs. Herbert was the chapter historian for the coming year. Mrs. Mills Bell was appointed to fill her unexpired term of office.

Mrs. R. B. Tynes, Regent, reported on the progress of the chapter's project for the year. It is the placing of a marble plaque in the Eastern Shore Chapel. Appropriate services will be held at Easter.

There will be a District meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution. At the Pine Tree Inn at 10 a.m. on September 24th. Luncheon will be $2.25 and all members are urged to attend.

The names of three prospective new members were submitted. They are Mrs. Winston Athey,

Antiques Fair in Richmond Oct. 6

Fall attractions of the Old Dominion and its capital city will be highlighted again this year by the Virginia Antiques Fair, to be staged October 6-9 in Richmond's Mosque ballroom.

Stimulated by last year's dealer, buyer and public response to the initial fair, The Virginia Antiques Association has joined again with the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce in sponsoring the event.

Last year's show drew 40 exhibitors and thousands of visitors to the largest exhibition and sale of antiques ever held under one roof in the Commonwealth.

The theme of the co-sponsors this year is "more and better."

W. M. Addison, owner of the Sherwood Shoppe in Richmond, and president of the dealers' association, reports that nearly 60 dealers have indicated the intention to exhibit this year. Richard Gillis, Jr., director of public relations at the State Chamber, is certain that even larger crowds will be attracted.

Among the exhibitors will be the finest from Richmond, from Virginia and from the Commonwealth's neighbor states. Delaware, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Maryland and Missouri all will be represented. The sponsors expect visitors to be drawn from even a wider area.

Mrs. Ada Wilson and Mrs. W. B. Rudolph.

Mrs. Agnes Johnson was appointed chairman of a committee to look into the possibility of purchasing a lot for a future chapter house. She will be assisted by Mrs. Russell Hatchett and Mrs. J. R. Burrell.

Mrs. Tynes announced that plans are under way to start a children of the American Revolution Society here in Princess Anne County. Mrs. Bailey, State Regent, has appointed Mrs. F. M. Robinson to be organizing President of the Society.

For two years the Boone and Crockett Club and National Wildlife Federation have paid for wardens to protect the tiny key deer on the Florida Keys. Their numbers have increased from 24 to about 70. Sports Afield.

CAVALIER NOTES

The ocean front dance deck at The Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club has served two important purposes during the week, outside of the weekly teas and evening dances to the music of Don Reid and his Band; namely—The Back-To-School Fashion Show on Wednesday, the 2nd, when not only apparel for all occasions for The Young Vows was exhibited, but also for teen-agers and the more adult alumnae. Mrs. Alice Brewer White was commentator, and the program was closed with the presentation of "Miss Virginia," Anne Lee Cagle, who will represent Virginia at Atlantic City this week, and who sang "Romance."

The second occasion was on Labor Day afternoon during the tea-dance, when more than 60 trophies were presented to winners in the annual Cavalier swimming meet of Monday, August 31st. Eighty entrants, children of Club members from 10 months up to 18 years of age, presented a very spirited program of swimming events and diving, under the supervision of Bill Murphy, sports director.

Many previous summer guests, especially Club members, returned for the Labor Day week-end, and they arrived in various ways, by plane, train, motor, bus and cruiser. The last long week-end of the 1953 season was definitely a busy one, and the Club members were unoccupied on both days. The golf course was another scene of activity, as was Linkhorn Bay. Dancing was featured for Sunday night for the week-end holiday, in addition to the afternoon tea-dance.

Plans are now under way for "Fairway Week," September 13rd to September 20th, highlight of which will be the first annual Tidewater Invitational Senior Golf Championship and the annual mid-Atlantic Professional Golfers Association meeting. The Senior Invitational will be climaxed with a dinner on Saturday night, September 19th in the club ballroom, when trophies and prizes will be awarded.

The National Children's Fund of American Junior Red Cross made gifts of condensed milk valued at $15,000 for child-feeding stations in stricken areas; shipped 50 Junior Red Cross school chests and 30,000 JRC gift boxes for Greek school children.

of six million dollars has had to come from the Epidemic Aid Fund." Mrs. Clark pointed out that as a result of these anticipated expenses the National Foundation is in danger of having to curtail its research program and its financial aid to patients who cannot pay polo treatment costs unaided. Recent GGI immunization projects have been conducted in Bristol, Va. and in Washington and Smyth Counties in Virginia, as well as in several other localities throughout the nation.

In commenting upon the financial condition of the Princess Anne Chapter, Mrs. J. D. W. Cassada, Treasurer, stated that ample funds remained to care for any new polio cases and all of the old convalescent cases still under their care from attacks of previous years. So far this year the Beach area has been practically free of polio as compared to 1950 when several cases occurred.

Mrs. Cassada stated that through the immunization projects with children under 10 years of age in the southwestern part of the state and in North Carolina, she felt that Princess Anne County had been saved from a heavy incidence.

Extending help on a nationwide basis and keeping March of Dimes funds fluid is basic with the National Foundation. "We've just been lucky so far this year," she said, "and we're glad to be able to share our funds with others, for if we needed funds we would receive them promptly. That's one reason we can promise everyone stricken with the disease that we can help them when they need our help."

Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

In the Home Demonstration Program many of the home for a demonstration during the summer months—Outdoor Cookery. In most cases aluminum foil was used. When you're hot and tired in the summer and have worked all day, it's simply wonderful to wrap that hamburger with a slice of onion and potato in foil and put in the coals and let it cook until done. Just sit in the cool of the yard for 20 minutes. That's about how long it takes if coals are just right. How there are many other uses of foil. Here is a caution about using it in the oven.

One of the many ways housewives use aluminum foil these days is in the oven under pies or other baked dishes to catch any possible run-over of food. For this purpose household equipment specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture advise using a piece of foil only slightly larger than the pan or dish with the edges turned up and placing it on an even rack directly under the pie or dish.

They caution against covering the entire bottom of the oven with foil because this cuts off circulation of heat and prevents proper cooking. Also, the heat given off by electric units, possibly causing them to burn out, or will cause incomplete combustion of gas which requires air circulation to burn properly.

Another precaution: Foil should never touch open heating wires in any electric appliance because it is likely to cause a short circuit.

Emergency Disaster Food Needs Catalogued for Householders

Preparation for possible civil defense emergencies should include maintenance of a family food shelf designed to nourish both infants and adults in time of crisis.

G. C. Fairbank, Virginia representative for American Can Company, reported that official organizations responsible for home defense in atomic attack have drawn up a suggested list of foods for emergency storage. "These requirements of a family emergency food shelf," said Fairbank, "are first, each family should store enough food to last at least three days. Secondly, the foods should include those which will quench thirst and satisfy hunger. Thirdly, they should be sealed in containers, preferably tin cans. Fourthly, they should include special nourishment for infants and invalids."

A typical food shelf recommended by the can-making firm's representative includes these items: Canned vegetables; canned fruit juices; canned meats, fish, (such as corned beef, beef stew, and salmon) and cheese in jars; canned soup; canned milk (one small can per person per meal); cereals, crackers and cookies in cans, and ready-to-eat dry cereals; sugar, stored in one-pound tin can or glass jar with tight lid; hard candy, stored in tightly covered metal or glass container; powdered coffee, powdered tea or tea balls; one quart of canned water per person per day; water for cooking, allowing one gallon per day for family of four; salt and pepper, replacing top of salt shaker with cork until ready for use.

Supplies for cooking on an emergency basis, he said, should

GRACE ATKINSON BACK TO STEPHENS

Hundreds of the forty-eight states and from twenty foreign countries and territories will converge on Columbia, Mo., by train, plane and car for the opening of the fall term at Stephens College on September 13.

Soon after their arrival Stephens students will be officially welcomed by President Thomas A. Spragens in a convocation which will mark the beginning of the one hundred twenty first year since the founding of the school in 1852.

Returning to Stephens College this fall from Virginia Beach is Miss Grace Dowell Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Atkinson, 301 54th and Holly Road, who has been invited to attend the Annual Campus Leaders Conference scheduled for September 10. Miss Atkinson will serve as a Senior Sister this fall.

"Moulin Rouge" At Drive-In

"Moulin Rouge," in Technicolor, directed by John Huston in the role of the brilliant, Lautrec, opens on Wed. & Thurs. at the Va. Beach Drive-In Theatre, through United Artists release. The supporting cast includes Zsa Zsa Gabor as Jane Avril; Colette Marchand as Marie Charlet; Suzanne Flon as Myriamne, the last love of Lautrec's life; and in the roles of familiar figures of the demimonde of turn-of-the-century, Katherine Kath as La Goulue, Muriel Smith as Aicha, George Lannes as Patou, Walter Christman as the dancer Desnoes, Rupert John as Chocolat, and many others.

The major portion of "Moulin Rouge" was filmed in Paris, in many of the lowlife boulevards and backstreets of the city of French nobility who preferred the rowdy milieu of the bohemian quarters to his ancestral estate—actually frequented and made famous in his paintings.

Huston devoted considerable care and energy to the casting of the roles of the three women in Lautrec's life. Zsa Zsa Gabor, the international glamor girl who has recently turned to a career of acting, was an inevitable choice for the part of Jane Avril, the beautiful and vivacious star entertainer of the Moulin Rouge. If there was a single flaw in the choice it resided in the fact that the gay and witty Zsa Zsa is, roughly, about twice as beautiful as Jane Avril was. But it is highly doubtful that anybody will quarrel with such a discrepancy, which errs very much on the side of the angels.

their canning for the season often ask how to keep the pressure canner in best condition when it's put away.

Be sure to protect the threads of the handle against rust by coating with a thin film of petroleum jelly or salt-free cooking oil. Crumple newspapers inside the kettle to absorb moisture and odors. Instead of putting on the tight cover, wrap the cover in paper and invert it in the kettle. It's also important to be sure the canner is put away thoroughly dry and clean to prevent corrosion of the metal or other damage while it stands unused.

To use pressure equipment successfully and safely in canning, a homemaker needs to understand how it operates and to use it correctly and carefully. A booklet just issued by the Department gives information to supplement the manufacturer's directions for managing a particular type of canner, or a smaller cooker—sometimes called a pressure saucepan—when used in canning. AGRICULTURAL NOTES

By JOHN O. HART, County Farm Agent

In traveling over the County during the last week looking at the harvest of early corn, I am pleasantly surprised at the good job that many of our farmers are doing in their picking operation. The fields that I have been in are surprisingly clean after the pickers have been over. One of the most profitable additions that you might make to your corn harvesting equipment is a rear-wheel shield for your tractor. In looking at the job that Alvah Malbone is doing in his field of Ohio C54, I am sure that his tractor shield is allowing him to pick at least 10% more corn stalks. This I think can be a valuable addition to your harvesting equipment for this fall.

Even on the cleanest fields I would say that we are leaving 5 to 10% of our corn in the field. If any of you are considering the use of Peck's Pigs in your corn fields after harvesting, there is a good possibility that we can make arrangements to bring in feeder pigs from out of State for you. These pigs will pay dividends on corn which would otherwise be wasted. Two of our slaughter houses in this area have made arrangements to bring in feeder pigs from Kentucky and Tennessee for the convenience of our farmers. These pigs are inspected before and after shipment by representatives of the two State Veterinary Departments. There is good assurance that you will be getting good thrifty pigs at a reasonable price. If any of you are interested in the details, I wish that you would contact me here at this office so that we can arrange for your order.

TIPS FOR FALL MANAGEMENT OF PIGS AND SHEEP

Hog prices have reacted to reduced marketing this year about as was expected. It now looks as though there is about a 10% reduction in the hog population for this year over 1952. From present reports it looks as if hog prices will remain favorable through the rest of this year. Good management on your fall pig crop will pay dividends next spring. The Experiment Station at Holland recommends that we use about 1/2 pound of a 40% protein pig hog while hogging off corn and soybeans. In fattening your hogs this fall for either home or slaughter feed them for meat not lard. The best slaughtering weight is about two hundred and twenty pounds. You can buy lard at the store for less per pound than your live hogs are bringing on the market.

SHEEP TIPS

Breed your ewes in September or February lambing. Keep them in good flesh, healthy and free from parasites. This will pay big returns in your spring lamb crop. One of the most important points in sheep management here in Princess Anne County is keeping the worms out of your sheep. Drench with fenitene sometime during the month of September and come back and report this about the middle of November. Wormy sheep is our major management problem.

Be sure to supply your flock with all the salt, mineral, and water that they want. As soon as your pastures begin to go out, it would be wise to start your present ewes on a 1/4 of a pound of feed per day. Oats and wheat are a good combination for this job. It is true that 40 grade ewes well managed should return you $1,000 next year. Good management this fall with your flock will certainly pay dividends, in the spring.

Vegetable Storage Insures Fresh Food

Storing vegetables before cold weather will insure fresh vegetables on the table in October, November, and December.

Vegetable gardening specialists at VPI say crops that can be stored successfully include various root crops, cabbage, onions, potatoes, pumpkins, and sweet-potatoes. Ideal conditions vary from crop to crop. Storage facilities range from special rooms partitioned off near an outside window in the basement to a simple trench lined and covered with straw at the edge of the garden. Parsnips and saffron need not even be dug for storage. Simply leave them in the ground and dig them as needed.

USDA Bulletin 1939, "Home Storage of Vegetables and Fruits," gives details. See your county agent, or write the Agricultural Extension Service at VPI, Blacksburg, for a free copy.

Small Grains to Be Seeded Soon

The first of next year's small grain crops will be seeded by Virginia farmers during the next few weeks.

W. W. Lewis, agronomist at VPI, says oats are the first of the small grains to be planted. Most of them will be seeded by October 15. Oats should be seeded about four weeks before the usual wheat-seeding date. Farmers in Piedmont Virginia and west of the Blue Ridge should have their oats seeded by October 1. However, in eastern Virginia, they may be seeded up until October 15.

Generally, the best time to plant barley in two weeks before wheat seeding time. For Piedmont and west of the Blue Ridge, that

Coleman Memorial Bridge New Tourist Attraction for Virginia

A Virginia attraction that is relatively new to the travel scene of these squares still exist in this country. Although it is interesting to note that there is a trend in modern traffic engineering toward building traffic circles now. Another idea the motorist on the trip should consider is the picnic. With the warm weather still around, eating along the banks of the York provides a nice opportunity to break up the trip for a short rest from driving.

The best picnic spot is found on the Yorktown side of the river, at a parking area along the Colonial Parkway. Because motorists are not allowed to park on the grass along the parkway, he will have to be satisfied with the parking area. But it is easy to find, and affords one of the best views along the entire parkway.

The parkway itself is a cool lane along the river, providing a beautiful array of scenery. Besides the parkway, Yorktown itself has a great many historic attractions that can be visited. And Jamestown and Williamsburg are only a few miles away, adding up to a wide variety of pleasure for a one-day trip.

"Do More Than Your Share to Protect Children," Drivers Urged

With the warning that 83 young people of high school age and below were killed as pedestrians by motor vehicles during the last calendar year and an additional five on bicycles, Dr. D. J. Howard, Superintendent of Public Instruction and member of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, today issued a plea to motorists that they do more than their share to avoid striking a child as some 690,000 of them return to public schools this month.

"Because they are children," said Dr. Howard, "they are prone to minimize traffic dangers, forget safety rules entirely or perform dangerous acts impulsively. It is therefore incumbent upon all of us who drive literally to lean over backwards in doing our part to prevent these terrible tragedies." Dr. Howard observed further that the opening of schools concentrates pupils along certain routes at certain times as they go to and from school and around the school buildings at recess time. This, he said, presents a hazard but one that can be minimized if motorists will remember to watch for them and be ready for any childish act which can suddenly propel one into the path of his vehicle.

"Teachers, police officers and schoolboy patrols will do all possible to protect them but we must have the aid also of parents and the individual driver if we are going to lower the toll," he concludes.

At the same time, Colonel G. W. Woodson, Jr., Superintendent of State Police and Executive Chairman of the Governor's Highway Committee, called attention to the state law against passing a stopped school bus while it is loading or unloading pupils.

"This law," he said, "applies whether the motorist passes from the front or the rear of the bus and such a violation is defined as reckless driving by the Code." Continuing he stated that troopers patrolling the highways will not overlook such a dangerous violation and that there have been cases in which drivers of school buses have taken the license number of a passing car and sworn out a warrant against the offender.

Under the present law, a judge may suspend a driver's license for as much as six months upon a conviction of reckless driving and it must be suspended for a year upon the second conviction for violation occurring within a year's time.

our first "B" month, we have many exciting activities. Princess Anne County Fair, Princess Anne County Club, Princess Anne County and the Princess Anne Ruritan Club, is in the swing. School Days, New Fall Fashions, and last, but not least, new and different menus to please everyone. September too brings us Oysters—and these edible Marine bivalve mollusks are a very popular food. They are delicious on half-shell, plain or cocktail—steamed, stewed, soups, fritters, deviled, fried or scalloped.

The Ancient Greeks considered the oyster the perfect prelude to a meal. The Romans called it "a dainty manna of the Sea." After Caesar's conquest of Britain, British oysters were transported in bags packed in snow and ice for the Roman banquets.

Oyster fishing and farming have grown to be a tremendous industry in the United States. There are three commercial species grown in American waters. These are native eastern oyster and of course, we call them the "Lynnhaven oyster"; the Olympia which is a native of the Pacific Coast; and the Japanese oyster grown on the Pacific coast from seed imported from Japan.

The adult oyster is usually attached to some hard object, such as old oyster shells, rocks, pilings, etc. Spawning takes place at water temperatures of 68 to 70 degrees during the summer months.

All oysters sold in our markets are farmed under Government supervision.

For a very pleasant casserole scallop the oysters:

- 1 pint oysters
- 1 cup butter cracker crumbs
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1 stick melted butter or margarine
- salt and pepper to taste
- 1/2 cup cream

Mix bread and cracker crumbs together, stir into melted butter, put layer in bottom of shallow baking dish that has been well greased. Cover with oysters, sprinkle over little salt and pepper—remaining bread and cracker crumbs—pour the cream over—bake 30 minutes at 425 degrees—4 servings.

Here's a recipe for Oyster Soup that I hope you'll like.

- 2/3 stick butter or margarine
- 2 T flour
- Salt—paprika
- 2 cups milk
- 1 pint oysters
- 1/2 teaspoon celery salt.

Melt butter or margarine—

MERRY MATRONS

Queen Elizabeth II has become quite a fashion barometer for the women of the world who like to copy the beautiful young queen's dignified fashion approach each new season. The Royal Dressmaker, Norman Hartnell, in his Fall collection for Queen Elizabeth has ignored the trend to shorter skirts which was launched by Christian Dior. Hartnell's favorites remain at the Queen's hemline length which is fifteen inches from the floor, for her means mid-calf. Other British designers are following suit and ignoring the Dior hemline edict. The royal couturier's models follow roughly the line he set in the Queen's coronation wardrobe. Princess-Like coats were fitted bodices, afternoon dresses are fashioned from rich silks, and the Queen's new ball dresses are embroidered elaborately. Like the late Queen Mother Mary, the young Queen likes umbrellas and Hartnell's umbrella collection includes one with a miniature frame covered in black velvet, another decorated with white mink and a third beaded in black to match a dress. And so it goes in the Queen's world of fashion: as a dignified young matron, she has established the use of quality fabrics and high fashion elegance which can be put to good effect to bring out the dignity of good dressing by a young wife, mother, a happy young matron—and queen.

Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, new first vice president of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, is a Madison College graduate, a former Norfolk school teacher, a past worthy matron of the Eastern Star of Virginia Beach, a former president of the Willoughby T. Cooke Parent-Teacher Association, an active member of the Methodist Church of Virginia Beach, and the new program chairman for the Woman's Club. With this background and experience, Isabel Holmes is sure to present thought-provoking as well as entertaining programs for her club member friends.

Mrs. Kermit Land and Mrs. W. H. Owen, the guests of honor at the Oct. 6 meeting of the Sixth District Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs when it holds an all-day session at the Cavalier Hotel and Mrs. R. H. Owen, president of the local Women's Club birthday luncheon club, will preside at the annual at Pine Tree Inn on Oct. 13. An unlucky number but a lucky one that day for the energetic members of the Princess Anne Woman's Club. Your alibi has attended every annual luncheon since she's been in Tidewater and wouldn't miss this one for love nor money!

Don't forget to attend the Fair especially on Thursday afternoon—today—at 3 p.m. when Mary Tobin's back-to-school fashions will be paraded by the cutest tots and prettiest teens in town. Tomorrow night, at 7:30 p.m. is the open fashion showing by the Augusta Shop. The 10 p.m. showing is by invitation only which will include the Woman's Club, Junior Woman's Clubs and the members of the Ruritan Club and their wives. MOW PASTURES

If you did not mow pastures in August or earlier, this year, mow them now. Agronomists at VPI say September mowing will still prevent some late weeds from coming to seed, and will improve the appearance of the pasture field.

ALFALFA CUTTING

Let alfalfa grow to one-tenth to one-half bloom stage in the fall before the last cutting. Agronomists at VPI say the cutting should be made so there will be about 6 to 10 inches of recovery growth before cold weather sets in.

JOHN FREDERICKS NO "MAD HATTER"—John Fredericks, like most milliners, has long enjoyed the title of "Mad Hatter," but this season he has decided to become a "not so mad" hatter and direct his thinking not to headlines but to the women who will wear his hats. He feels that it is time that Fred's Bad Boy of the fashion industry grew up and understood that we are living in the 20th century, not the gay twenties. Don't think however, that Mr. Fred is turning into a grim-faced philosopher, dedicating himself to austerity. But he knows that all fun today must be accounted for in the budget—regardless of income—and the husband who smiles tolerantly at nonsensical "little" extravaganzas is practically extinct. Always alert to currents and changes, he recognizes the new requirements of the woman of 1933 and has designed his new Fall collection for her. He presents a collection that is fun but not giddy, designed to bring smiles of appreciation and amusement. A new concept of excitement has emerged with the new Tradition, with restraint and subtle drama replacing his usual startling effects. After witnessing the John Fredericks showing in New York, it was quite evident he had done a delightfully smart and refreshing job of designing.

THE NEW TRADITION—The silhouette in the New Tradition is completely varied. There are cloches with deep crowns and shallow flared brims that outline and flatter, rather than over-shadow the face. They are featured in plushy two-toned velours, paisley printed wool jerseys—these are out of this world—and shaggy chignons, reworked with silk threads to give the unbelieveably soft texture. The John Fredericks turbans, of course, are very important. They range from the modified softly draped to the sleek hair-concealing and are shown in striped and checked wool jerseys, panne and velvet. One of the most exciting new silhouettes is the pillbox that is worn far back on the head and deeply curved to completely enclose the hair. There are plump little dome shaped pillboxes that are worn squarely on the head. Breton with beveled brims, and tiny suffed discs and turbans with deep and shallow flanges. The colors that are seen in this group of pillboxes, and throughout the collection, are as varied as the silhouettes, all muted taupe and beige, subdued but bright seagreen and rose, smoky pinks and brilliant reds.

JOHN FREDERICKS' FURS—Furs are an important part of the new Tradition with turbans of black broadtail, dramatically combined with ermine, the easy slattery of white fox, to the raccoon, turbans of mink—all so classic in concept that they might easily become the heroines of 1933's wardrobe. The fur designer has also taken into consideration the fact that there is frequently no time for a change and has designed a lightly jeweled hat group that more easily from a smart luncheon to a "dress-up" dinner and theater party.

THE HAT FOR AN ENTRANCE—In this New Tradition of millinery designing by John Fredericks, he completely refutes the theory that the hat for an entrance has to be an elaborate overpowering bill by keeping his turbans close to the head. With this in mind he has designed a group of hats for the very formal occasion. There are draped pillboxes worn far back on the head, flaming panne velours, heavily jeweled stars whose petal points curve to drape gently to the head and tiny gold lame discs with deep flanges of gold lace, circles of gold rope sit high on the head and are swathed in gold veiling and feather fringes swirl around their bandeaux. An ermine crown is combined with silver lame and encircled with silver and metal beads. All so elegant and beautiful that they easily establish a tradition of their own.

ACCREDITED CHARMERS

Two years ago, Mr. Fred realized the importance of the "Career City" and they need and desire for good design at a price and he decided to put the John Fredericks label within her reach. Using his talent and knowledge, he decided to bring through his Charming hats, the elegance and chicness and good workmanship for which he is famous, to a market which could not afford to pay more than fifteen dollars for a hat. The magazines and newspapers throughout the country have made these little hats famous and so this Fall, Mr. Fred has called his Charming's collection, "Accredited Charming" and given each hat a special title to fit the girls of the printer's ink realm. Special Edition is the turban in many variations; Circulation is bright contrasting stripes of felt that spiral into cloches and soft brimmed casques; Tearsheets, bright red felts with well planned dashes in gay informal shapes; Special Feature, gilt-tipped red shoestrings spun into cloches and berets; Headlines, boldly striped shapes made of contrasting strips of butter-soft felt; Evening Edition, Brilliant colored velvet ribbons sewn together to make a wreath or a pillbox, gold lame edged with pearls or strands of shiny beads crocheted to make a covering or a tiny velvet shell, and Four Star Finials are John Fredericks' first wedding veils designed especially for the career girls who ideally include marriage in their plans. Summing it all up: Mr. Fred shows us his Fall collection, his great imaginative ability to create in four-star fashion.

Government workers drink 20 per cent less coffee now than under the Truman administration, according to the survey that runs most of the federal government cafeterias.

One night Joe called home with lipstick on his collar. "Where did you get that?" demanded his wife, "from my maid?" "No," Joe replied, "from the government!" she laughed.

"Joe," Joe repeated, adding indignantly, "Don't you think I have my friends of my own?"

"ATMOSPHERE FINE, FOOD EVEN BETTER," AT COLONY RESTAURANT

"The atmosphere here is excellent and the food better, if that is possible. The Midwest (Illinois) could not equal this culinary delight," So wrote Mr. John A. Peterson, of Elburn, Illinois, after dining at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Avenue.

A comment received from Mrs. Frances Geldy, of Forest Hills, New York, read: "Food is very good—just like the best restaurants in New York!"

The Colony Restaurant is very proud of the many letters received daily from satisfied customers from all over the country.

This demonstration was worth many hundreds of dollars to me!

I thought only a higher-priced car would suit me. But then I found out how much more Chevrolet offered for how much less!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel of this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the rich-looking upholstery and appointments and roomy, comfortable seats. Just turn the ignition key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You get more power on less gas. Here's all the power and performance you could ever ask for. And along with it comes the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history! That's because Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines.

You can see all around. You look out and down at the road through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide. Finer performance on less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Even Power Steering. If you want it. You ought to try Power Steering to see how easy driving can be. You can spin the wheel with one finger! It's optional, of course, at extra cost, and available on all models.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops. An easy nudge on the brake pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet brakes are the largest in the low-price field—extra large for extra stopping power.

It's heavier for better roadability. You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady ride. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than other low-priced cars.

And it's the lowest-priced line. A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers more in the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

Little man with a big job...

This month, schoolbells will be calling millions of boys and girls back to books.

An impressive picture, typically American — but not without its grimness.

Day after day, schoolbells will lead those children, many of them only six years old, across heavily trafficked streets . . . and busy intersections . . . where the motorist finds the temptation to "step on it" a little.

It's inevitable that before next vacation time, we're going to lose some of those boys and girls . . . lose them to the motor vehicle traffic menace we grownups have created and which is credited — or discredited — with as many fatalities as all our wars combined. There are going to be parents who will know a devastating grief. There are going to be others, too — the man or woman who happened to be "at the wheel when it happened" who will know a helpless grief that will accuse them, maybe for the rest of their lives, no matter how blameless they might have been.

Fortunately, we have our School Safety Patrol Boys . . . hundreds of thousands of "little men with big jobs" . . . to help us hold this kind of tragedy to a minimum. You can't measure the importance of their job. But none of us will deny that it is one of the most important jobs of all.

The "little men" who fill these jobs aren't just picked at random. They're carefully selected for leadership . . . for the respect they command among their small charges . . . their ability to do this job, and perhaps save a life.

When you see a Patrol Boy, give him a hand. Slow down. Give him all the help you can. Remember — he's trying to protect some mighty important little people. That's not all. If you'll stop to think about it, he's trying to protect you, too.

Thompson Commands Reserve Air Units in Defense Maneuvers

"Week end Warriors" from five East Coast Naval Air Reserve Units, including several from Norfolk, are back at their civilian jobs today after an intensive two-day exercise which tested skills in searching for, and locating and attacking a make-believe "enemy" naval raiding force approaching the Atlantic Coast. W. G. Thompson, Jr., of Virginia Beach, served as executive officer for the reserve units from Norfolk.

In the realistic battle problem, designed to provide reserve pilots, crews and commanders with coordinated practice in their normal search, attack and defense missions, well over 100 Naval Reserve aircraft were employed. The "enemy" naval raiding force, spotted as it approached the critical New York-New Jersey area, included an escort aircraft carrier, nine destroyers and two submarines.

The two-day exercise, known as "Swordfish," utilized the latest techniques in search tactics and equipment and included air attacks against the "enemy" raiding force at sea and interception of his bombers as they attempted to attack coastal industrial areas.

The basic operation plan which governed this large joint exercise contained the following assumption:

"An enemy naval force of one aircraft carrier, supported by several escort war vessels, has been reported by a merchant vessel which was 300 miles east of the New Jersey Coast very early the morning of 12 September. The position report garbled and the exact location of the enemy force uncertain. At the time of sighting, this force was steaming in a westerly direction. It is further assumed that this enemy force was launched from a bomber aircraft capable of carrying atomic bombs for air attacks upon our coastal cities."

Garden Clubs Join Mayor in Urging Winter Tidiness

The Council of Garden Clubs of Princess Anne County and Virginia joins Mayor Murray and the Council in the action being taken at present to urge hotel owners who are closing their places for the winter months to leave them in such condition that they will not be eye-sores to the year round residents and business people as well as visitors. It is true that some of the owners leave our city and go to Florida or other winter resorts. It is also true that those remaining here the entire year do not relish looking at water front hotels with windows smeared with soap, covered with newspapers, blankets, sheets or anything else that may be easily within reach of the hand. If they are to be closed, the Council urges that some material or drapes having a neat appearance be used and that the yards be left in good condition and not piled in rubbish and trash. We are all striving to make our city and county one to be proud of and it is hoped that the summer residents will cooperate in every manner possible.

COUNTY FAIR ONE OF MOST SUCCESSFUL

The Princess Anne County Fair closed last Saturday night at a highly successful four-day stand at Seaside Park in Virginia Beach.

The closing night was highlighted as usual with the crowning of "Miss Princess Anne" and the 1953 honor went to Miss Jacqueline Hill, 14 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hill, of Virginia Beach Boulevard.

Miss Hill was sponsored in the contest by the Virginia Beach Moose Lodge. "Miss Princess Anne" is a freshman at the Oceana High School.

Miss Dolly White, sponsored by the American Legion Post 113, placed second in the contest and Miss Nancy Williams, of Back Bay, was third.

"Miss Princess Anne" was crowned by last year's winner, Miss Ruth Williams. Each girl was presented an orchid and Miss Hill received a $50 defense bond and a trophy.

Another interesting feature of the fair was the flower show titled, "Beauty in Blossom." This flower show was under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Cecil H. Reed, who was given a special vote of thanks for the outstanding work she did in making the flower show the most successful ever held.

The flower show was sponsored jointly by the Woman's Club and the Ruritan Club and was divided into two sections—horticultural and arrangement. The judging was done according to the rules as set down by the National Council of State Flower shows, with competition open to all residents of Princess Anne County.

Mrs. Harry F. Ames, of Virginia Beach, won first place for best in show for the African violets in the horticultural division while Mrs. Mabel G. Davis, 128-12th Street received the award for best in show in the arrangement class for her "Autumn Glory" flower display. Mrs. Davis was presented a silver tea tray by Mrs. Harold B. Kellam, who was in charge of pre-judging.

In the junior misses division best in show was won by Miss Beverly Ann Baldwin, recipient of the Virginia Wilson Trophy. A talent contest was staged on Saturday afternoon with Mrs. E. H. Church, Mr. James Johnson and Mr. Ray Penner serving as judges. First prize went to a clever accordion player, Jean, Lind and Gayle Zydron. Second place honors were won by David Emory with a piano and song selection and third place went to Eugene Annarillo with a special tap dance. Mrs. Waverly Dickens, Jr. served as chairman of this event and Marsha Murphy was mistress of ceremonies.

The baton twirling contest was divided into four groups. Judges were W. B. Floyd and W. T. McFarland. Paty Etheridge was top prize in group number one. Other winners were Mary Lynn McHenry, second group; Paty Etheridge, third group; and Yvonne (Continued on Page 3)

Don't Pay for Blood Says Red Cross

It has happened again! Much to the dismay of Princess Anne County Chapter, American Red Cross officials, a regular blood drive donor contacted the Chapter in regard to a near relative being asked to pay for a blood transfusion which he was unable to replace having given so recently at the Civilian blood drive here in Virginia Beach. Despite years of publicity there are hospitals, doctors and civilians who are still unaware that the National Blood program will provide blood, free blood, to those in need who contact the local chapter or the Red Cross Blood Center in Norfolk. When the distraught donor was informed of the method of replacing the blood needed in a Norfolk hospital he was greatly relieved.

Harold S. Kellam, Chapter Chairman, has pointed out that there is no charge for the blood itself. However, the doctors do charge for their services in giving the blood during the transfusions and this charge often times is thought to be charge for the blood itself. Kellam urges all persons having misunderstanding or doubts about the blood program to contact the Chapter at Tel. 938.

The chairman also pointed out that throughout the country the blood collections fell to a disappointing low during the summer. Every effort is being directed toward renewing the interest of the public in the blood program. The next bloodmobile under sponsorship of the Civilian Club is scheduled for October 16.

'Seahawks' Lose Opener To 'Truckers,' 14-6

The Virginia Beach Seahawks dropped their initial contest of the year, 14-6, last Saturday night to the powerful Churchnard Truckers, thus marring their inaugural game, played before an overflow crowd of approximately 3,500 fans, at the new Memorial Stadium.

The shiny new scoreboard might have been more kind to the floundering Seahawks were it not for a few tough but inevitable breaks suffered in the second period when a Seahawk end, who was all but hit in eye with a pass labeled "touchdown" let it get away from him and trickle harmlessly to the turf, and again in the third period when hard driving Buba Standings, being hit hard on the goal line parted ways with the slippery Piskin only to be recovered in the end zone by Churchnard who took possession on their own 20 yard line.

Had it not been for these two instances alone, it may have been different ball game. Statistically the Seahawks were, in the first half, weak in nearly every department, failing to make a single first down or to complete a forward pass. The

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT UP; DOUBLE SHIFT NECESSARY

Princess Anne County's public schools opened last Monday with a record increase in enrollment, according to Frank W. Cox, divisional superintendent of schools for Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach City.

The enrollment in some sections of the county was so great that it has necessitated a return to the double shift system of attendance. This is true at Kempsville and Bayside where overcrowded condition compel employment of the double shift system.

In another year we will have ample facilities at Kempsville and Bayside," Cox explained. "Two elementary schools, one at Robbins Corner and the other at Little Creek, plus the completion of the consolidated high school at Thalia will relieve the situation," Cox said.

Where the double shift system is used the morning pupils will be in the classrooms from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. Afternoon pupils will be in school from 12:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m.

According to figures released by the school board office total enrollment for all schools has reached 9206 which is an increase of 1499 over a year ago.

A breakdown of the figures shows Bayside with 1493, an increase of 426; Courthouse School 914, an increase of 40; Creeks Elementary 257, a decrease of 31; Creeks High School 131, an increase of five; Oceana Elementary 1072, an increase of 241; Oceana High School 414, an increase of 21; Kempsville elementary 1092, an increase of 142; Kempsville High School 771, an increase of 103; W. T. Cooke 875, an increase of 211; Virginia Beach High School 412, an increase of 194; the sixth and seventh grades, Virginia Beach High School 366; six colored schools 2125, an increase of 53.

The abnormal increase in the enrollment at W. T. Cooke school is explained by the fact that the fifth grade which attended the high school building last year have been shifted back to the grade school.

It is expected that late enrollments will shoot the total figure over the 1500 mark that was predicted as the expected increase for this year.

Roy Charles Wins Thomas Memorial

Roy Charles, a much improved digger, is the 1953 champion of the Vince Thomas Memorial Handicap Golf tournament held annually at the Princess Anne Country Club.

Charles captured the title last Sunday when he fired one of his best rounds, a 77 with a 14 handicap that gave him a net score of 64. In his opening round he shot an 88-13-75. It gave him a 36-hole total of 139.

T. N. P. Johnson, of Virginia Beach, finished second to the champion with a 36 hole of total of 140.

Smooth working Quarterback, Babe Walton teamed with Kenny Dietrich and Jimmy Curry constituted the main offense needed to provide the death knell for the Seahawks. Waltons unerring passes set up both touchdowns scored by Dietrich and Curry.

For Virginia Beach it was fleet footed Sonny Halstead who picked up the ball and the Seahawks yardage, and pushed across the only touchdown in the third quarter. On defense for the Seahawks it was Co-Captain Bobby Derring who remained in the hair of the Truckers throughout the entire game.

TIPPING THE CHAPEAU

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred I. Hobbs, 117 81st Street, corner of Atlantic Avenue and 81st, has been selected as the beauty spot of the week by the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs are part time residents, yet find plenty of time and show enough interest to keep their property in tip-top condition thereby making it an "eye-catcher" to passing motorists and an asset to the neighborhood and certainly deserving of the compliment being paid by the Council this week. The grounds are always in general having such a well shaped and everything in general having such an excellent appearance that the Beach should be proud to possess such part-time residents as the Hobbs.

(Note: An observer for the Council of Garden Clubs through this column selects a beauty spot weekly.)

Ladd Makes Hit in "Desert Legion"

Cracking with action, Universal-International's exciting Technicolor production, "Desert Legion," which opens Sunday and Monday at the Va. Beach Drive In Theatre, blends the tale of a secret Algerian mountain community and the heroics of the French Foreign Legion into the type of entertaining film fare that will enthrall young and old alike.

Alan Ladd, a dashing figure in the uniform of the French Foreign Legion, adds even more status to his star rating as he fights and loves his way through "Desert Legion" with one of the hardest-hitting performances of his movie career. Richard Conte, playing his first costume role as a villainous leader of a band of desert raiders, scores a smashing success with his portrayal. No less effective than her co-stars is precious Arlene Dahl, who combines the sexiest wardrobe of the year with a fine emotional portrayal of a fiery Beauty of Algeria.

Movie fans will cheer at the sight of one of their old favorites who makes a triumphant return to the screen in "Desert Legion." Alvin Tamiroff, winner of two former Academy Award nominations, is back in the movies after a long illness and his artistic characterization of Ladd's Legion pal is a joy to behold.

OUR SCHOOL

Figures released by the divisional superintendent of the Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach City schools this week revealed an increase in enrollments of approximately 1500 pupils over 1952.

Estimates had placed the expected increase at this figure and as a result some of the school facilities are taxed to the overcrowded stage. This was expected and good planning on the part of the school board will see an elimination of this post war problem by next September.

At the present time two new elementary schools and a new consolidated high school are under construction. They are expected to be ready for the 1954 fall term and this will mean a return to normal.

Completion of the elementary schools in the Robbins Corner area and the Little Creek area will greatly relieve the overcrowded conditions. In addition, completion of the consolidated high school at Thalia will release the present high school facilities at Kempsville and Oceana for elementary use.

The long range planning program of our school authorities which began before the close of World War II should be fully realized by next September and school condition in our county will once again return to normal, a feat not experienced by many localities throughout the educational world.

While there is still some double shifts in operation this year we can look to this form of attendance as a past experience next year.

BATTLE'S RESOLUTION

This week found Virginia's venerable Governor John S. Battle again making the headlines and brought back fond memories of his unforgettable appearance on the speakers platform at the National Democratic Convention in Chicago in June of 1952.

If the scene again was in Chicago as the Democratic National Committee's rules and bylaws groups met in what has been termed a harmonious gathering. The meeting resolved itself in the party's so-called loyalty pledge which caused a furore at the last convention.

Governor Battle, along with Governor Hugh White, of Mississippi, offered a resolution dealing with the loyalty pledge that was adopted by the committee.

The Battle resolution, in effect, said the rules of the 1952 convention which operated under the loyalty pledge are dead, and that there are no rules for the 1956 convention. Many Democratic leaders have felt the same way and the committee concurred.

The action of the committee and Governor Battle's suggestion again brought the Governor in the national spotlight, a position he seems to warrant whenever he chooses to expound his wisdom.

NEW CITY TREASURER

The interim appointment of Lewis E. Smith as city treasurer of Virginia Beach is one that should merit the approval of every taxpayer of this community for in Smith the city's treasury is in the hands of a man filled with valuable experience in money and tax matters.

Mr. Smith's business background and his fine moral character make him an ideal person to serve in the position left vacant in the death of R. A. Jones. The new treasurer joins the official city family after having engaged in the banking business for twelve years and after serving as deputy treasurer of Princess Anne County for some three years.

Mr. Smith is a young man at 37, but is well matured in matters of business and particularly in the dollar and cents phase of business. No one man in our midst could be better qualified to fill the position of city treasurer.

The City of Virginia Beach is fortunate in securing Mr. Smith for the job since the work greatly parallels the work he has been performing for Princess Anne County during the past three years and that along with his banking experience has led to a continuance of the smooth functioning that has marked the operation of the city treasurer's office during the years of the late R. A. Jones tenure in that position.

We congratulate Mr. Smith on his appointment and wish him success in his labors ahead.

DALE CARNEGIE

HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING

James W. Rorin, 7838 Laurel Grove Avenue, North Hollywood, California, gives you a story that he believes will help those who are carrying heavy loads.

Thirteen years ago on a cold February night an explosion shook the little town of Cass Lake, Minnesota, and with it snuffed out the lives of three men who happened to be friends of James Rorin, men he had worked with side by side for three years. He had parted from them just fifteen minutes before the explosion. A huge stationary boiler in the boiler room had undergone extensive repair for two months previously. It, testing the boiler for possible leaks at high pressure, the safety valve had been screwed down tight, and the responsible person for this test failed to unscrew the safety valve when tests were being run. The boiler exploded, and a fire was started in the firebox to build up steam, and as

James went by the boiler on his way home, a glance out of the corner of his eye at the steam gauge told him the needle was beyond the safety point. But he didn't stop to analyze the gauge. He was interested in the fun he was going to have after he got home.

For two years after this he says he wasn't much good to anyone, including himself. Grief and a guilty conscience weighed him down.

He says he will never forget the tragedy—it will remain in his sub-conscious mind so long as he lives. But he knows he must go on, he can't stop living. But he has found something that gives him peace of mind—something he has tried and found good. That is meditation—meditation with someone greater than himself, and which he believes to be the greatest peace-maker the world has ever known.

"WOW, WHAT A MELON!"

The Editor's Mail Box

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN...

It is sincerely hoped and requested that the proprietors of establishments who contemplate closing for the winter months will leave their premises in a neat and slightly condition, with clean windows, neat interiors, and the outside well groomed and cleaned up. By all means avoid that "abandoned look," always keeping in mind that Virginia Beach is a thriving year round residential community. It goes without saying that good publicity begins at home and we sincerely believe one of the finest advertising media is a well-kept, clean and neat community, and just one unsightly establishment can spoil the entire picture.

PLEASE DON'T:

Smear windows with soap or other materials.
 Hang old sheet or bedspreads over windows or door glasses.
 Plaster newspapers over windows or door glasses.

These are just a few suggestions, and we know that each proprietor or tenant knows best how to handle his particular problem when everyone is working toward the common goal of well-groomed community.

Thanking you for your cooperation, I am

Sincerely yours,

Claude Harrison, Creeds 4-H'er, Wins County Honor

Claude Harrison, Jr., a member of the Creeds Senior 4-H Club completed in a County wide contest in Farm and Home Electrification, and finished victorious over thirty four contestants in the same project.

This contest is State wide and is held on a County basis first to determine the County winner. The climax and award for this contest was an all expense paid trip to Richmond to the 4-H Farm and Home Electric Congress. This event is a part of the 1953 Virginia 4-H Farm and Home Electric Program conducted by the Virginia Agricultural Extension Service, and co-sponsored by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation and Electric Power Suppliers over the State of Virginia.

We appreciate the cooperation of the above co-sponsors for their assistance in developing the County 4-H Electric Programs and for their support in making possible this, our third, State 4-H Farm and Home Electric Congress.

Claude attended the Congress along with one hundred eleven other boys and girls representing sixty-four Counties in the State.

The program participated in by the 4-H members varied from speeches, demonstrations, recreation. On Thursday, September 3, electrical demonstrations were given by 4-H Club members from three counties. At a luncheon, Parke C. Brinkley, Commissioner of Agriculture spoke to the Congress members. Later the entire group went on a tour of the State Capitol and local power plants. Upon completion of the tour the 4-H club members held their annual Banquet with Rev. Ernest K. Emurian, Minister, Elm Avenue Methodist in Portsmouth as guest speaker. Following the banquet everyone participated in a High Voltage Party.

At breakfast Friday, September 4th, three minute reports were given by the District Winners from each District. Immediately following breakfast the 4-H club members and county Extension Agents, who accompanied the members to the Congress, met in different sections to discuss what could be done to improve the Congress in 1954.

The climax of the Congress was the Luncheon Friday, with W. H. Daugherty, Associate Director of Extension Service, V. P. I. the principal speaker. After which, awards were presented by Dr. W. E. Skelton, State 4-H Club Agent.

Under the direction of Claude Harrison, the 4-H members in Princess Anne County who participated in the Electric Project put on an exhibit emphasizing the work done in the County in electricity, and also the way in which this was accomplished. The Princess Anne Exhibit won 5th place in the State. Claude deserves a great deal of credit for the fine work he has done in electricity. We sincerely hope he will go still further in his electrical career that they have given as in developing and carrying out our 4-H Farm and Home Electric Program.

The County Extension Workers of Princess Anne County would like to take this opportunity to especially thank George Harper and Francis Parry from the Norfolk County for the Virginia Electric and Power Company for the wonderful cooperation that they have given as in developing and carrying out our 4-H Farm and Home Electric Program.

The United States has 1,764 coal mines.

Youth Work Institutes Held

The United Christian Youth Movement (UCYM) is conducting a series of 40 Youth Work Institutes throughout America during the month of September. These Institutes are sponsored by the State Youth Council in cooperation with the Youth Division of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches.

The Youth Work Institute for Virginia will be held in the Hanover Avenue Christian Church of Richmond, Va., on Thursday, Friday, September 17th and 18th. Plans for the Institute have been arranged by a committee of Young People from the United Christian Youth Council of Virginia with the Rev. Clarence M. Brown, Youth Director of the Virginia Council of Churches, serving as Advisor.

The purpose of the Institute is four-fold. Youth workers realize that the Young People of America are concerned with moral values and religious beliefs, and are eager to have the right answers. With this thought in mind the Youth Work Institutes are being held to consider creative approaches to youth work; to review new resources for program building; to think through basic reasons for interdenominational cooperation; and to plan a cooperative strategy for youth work.

VIRGINIA STILL LOW TAX STATE; ONLY SEVEN HAVE LOWER RATE

Virginia continued as a low tax State during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953 according to comparative statistics released last week by the Bureau of the Census, United States Department of Commerce.

The Bureau's publication, "State Tax Collections in 1953" (August 1953) used two indexes for the measurement of relative tax burdens. On the basis of each of these, per capita collections and collections as a percentage of 1952 income payments, to individuals, Virginia's State tax collections were relatively lower than in over half of the other 47 states.

Collections as a percentage of income payments means the equivalent portion of income payments to individuals that would be necessary to pay the total State tax bill.

Per capita collections of State taxes in Virginia amounted to $53.93 while the average for all 48 States was $68.04. Forty States had higher per capita collections than Virginia while only seven States had lower per capita collections than Virginia. Per capita collections ranged from a low of $27.04 in New Jersey to a high of $107.67 in the State of Washington. If all States were listed in order from low to high, on the basis of per capita collections, Virginia would be the eighth lowest State for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953. Virginia was the seventh lowest State for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1952.

Four of the five States that border on Virginia had higher per capita collections than Virginia. The following table shows Virginia's relative rank in comparison with the national average and with surrounding States:

State	Per Capita State Tax Collections
National Average (48 States)	$68.04
Kentucky	47.29
Virginia	53.93
Tennessee	56.94
West Virginia	62.50
Maryland	65.51
North Carolina	68.86

On the basis of State tax collections as a percentage of 1952 income payments to individuals, Virginia, with 4.1%, had a lower percentage than the average for all 48 states. Twenty-nine states had a higher percentage of income payments paid out in State taxes than Virginia, three other States had the same percentage as Virginia, and fifteen States had a lower percentage than Virginia. Collections ranged from a low of 1.9% in New Jersey to a high of 8.5% in Louisiana. PMA Committee Elections on 25th

"Much interest is being expressed locally in the annual PMA committee elections to be held a week from Friday," County PMA Chairman R. W. Lane said yesterday. "It may be due to the wheat situation."

He clarified the remark by stating that a larger number of farmers are attaching special importance to the marketing quota and price support programs on wheat in view of the present and possibly continued low market price on wheat due to the large national surplus. PMA committee administrator both programs.

"Farmers voted for high level price support about a month when they endorsed a 1954 wheat quota program by an 87 percent majority. Now they have a chance to say who runs the program in each county. It's democracy at its best."

In addition, Mr. Lane said he expected "less" flexibility in the 1954 Agricultural Conservation Program which may require more exacting administration than in other years. However, he made it clear that the provisions of the conservation program are yet to be announced.

Voting on September 25 will be by secret ballot, as usual, and polls in Princess Anne county will be located in the places below, all open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Kempville District at Denby and Brinkley Store, Lynnhaven District at Flanagan's Store, Seaboard District at FMA County Office, Pungo District at Curtis Ansell's Store, and Blackwater District at Blackwater Bridge Store.

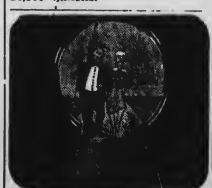

Doctors, nurses and hospitals as well as expectant mothers in the Princess Anne county have been alerted to report twin births on September 23 to Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

For September 23 marks the company's second Blessed Event day. The company's second Blessed Event day is a day when a new model LS-7 Laundromat, automatic washer and model D-77 Clothes Dryer plus a year's supply of Gerber's baby food.

An official said that a collect telegram must be sent to "Blessed Event," Westinghouse, Mansfield, Ohio, within 72 hours after the birth of twins that qualify. The telegram must give the parents' name, address and place of birth of the twins.

The parents then will receive an acknowledgment letter along with a request for a photostatic copy of the birth certificate. Upon receipt of this information, delivery arrangements will be made for the new laundry equipment and supply of baby food. The official said that Westinghouse was pleasantly surprised at the number of twin births reported in last year's Blessed Event day. More than 300 sets of laundry equipment were presented free to parents of twins born on that day; statistics used by the company before the promotion showed a little more than 100 twin births on any one day.

DEMONSTRATION CLUB JOTTINGS

Hungry? Maybe so and maybe not but if you have ever been at school at recess time and seen the pupils when lunchtime came you did not have to ask. Though many children now wish to take advantage of lunch served in the lunchroom many prefer taking their food for various reasons. In families where they are served children that have money come up to it. The child who takes a lunch today can have a well-balanced and attractive meal. I can remember the "old days" when we had quite a different situation.

Now what are the essentials for a good lunch? First a main dish—a sandwich of meat, egg, cheese, peanut butter on enriched or whole wheat bread or a plastic dish of cold baked beans. Second a raw vegetable or fruit (or salad made of these) for both appetite appeal and nutritional need—Third, milk, cocoa, custard or a milk soup. Add to these some sweet as cookie or doughnut and you have a meal fit for the King or Queen of your home and the second grade. Now some tips! Keep lunch making "tools" together. This includes broods, waxed paper or bag, knives, covered plastic bowls, paper cups, etc. Get out everything you need and arrange assembly line fashion when you are ready to begin making the lunches. Let the children help. They can offer suggestions for combinations and ways of fixing food for lunches. Lunches can be made the night before if more practical. When each person comes in from school or work, have them rinse out thermos bottle and lunch box and leave open to air in a place arranged for this.

Be sure to vary not only the food served every day but also the filling combination served. When filling thermos with hot contents, let the hot liquid first come out, then add the cold liquid. This will keep the food at the temperature it can be drunk. Otherwise if put in too hot, it will burn!

Now a few don'ts. Don't make sandwiches too dry or too damp.

When wrapping, put both ends of paper together and fold over three times and then close ends. It'll keep better. Don't be too stingy with spread for sandwiches. Don't wait until you are ready to begin to work to get out butter to soften or decide what to have on the sandwich and make it up. Here are suggested for lunches for a week.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

By JOHN O. HART, County Farm Agent

TERMITES THREATEN— CONTROL MEASURES STOP

Having spent my Labor Day Holiday at our 4-H Camp at Virginia Beach trying to prevent any future trouble from the dreaded termite, I think it might be well to outline some of the major precautions that can be taken on our County farms to prevent this serious cause of property damage. As is the case at our 4-H Camp, we never realize that we have termites until considerable damage has already been done. These insects very seldom do any of their work in the open where their presence can be detected. It is a very good plan to inspect your house or out-buildings carefully at least once a year to make sure that you are not inviting a termite colony on your premises.

In making plans to erect any new buildings on your farm, it would be well to select a well drained building site, being careful to clear all stumps, wood or paper debris out from under the foundation. In this region where termites are active a tight cap on your brick or block foundation, using reinforced concrete or a non-corroding metal, is a good safeguard against future trouble. Avoid the use of green lumber for your studs and joists. For any permanent construction you should never allow any wood to come into direct contact with the soil. The major point in preventing termite infestation is to allow ample ventilation and prevent any rain water from remaining in or around the foundation of your building.

One common mistake that many of us make is placing an earth filled porch in contact with the main building. This is an engraved invitation for termites to come in where it is very difficult to detect their presence. For good cross ventilation under your building allow at least 18 inches clearance under joists and girders. This will prevent any dampness which is necessary for a termite infestation.

A careful inspection of all farm buildings should be made during the winter or early spring for any termite tubes or damage. Remember that the termites make their homes in the ground and build enclosed tubes up to the source of wood. If you find any decay or moisture that is not due to leaks, check your drainage and ventilation. Where you find any termite tubes, it would be wise to consult with one of our reliable exterminating companies of Norfolk. Methods for treating termite damage using Penachlorophenol are outlined in one of our U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletins which is available here in this office.

It would be wise for all of our farmers to make a regular check this fall for the possible presence of termites. Remember that by the time that you can easily find them it is usually too late. A careful yearly check should locate them before they have done their damage.

FEEDER CALF SALE SCHEDULED AT EWING

Virginia's 1953 series of Feeder Calf Sales will open this week at Ewing, Virginia. A total of 28 sales are being planned with an estimated 25,000 calves being sold. Our beef calf raisers here in Princess Anne County are included for the first time in one of the State Feeder Calf Sales. A small number of our County calves are scheduled to be sold at the Petersburg Sale on October 16th. According to K. C. Williams (Continued on Page Five)

Marketing Quota Programs on Increase in State

It is likely that committeemen of the Production and Marketing Administration to be elected later this month, will have the responsibility of administering more marketing quota programs than have ever operated at one time in Virginia. State PMA Chairman P. A. Lewis said today.

Already marketing quota programs are in operation on five types of tobacco, peanuts, wheat, and preliminary steps have been taken with the prospect of cotton acreage controls. The decision on controlling next year's corn acreage hinges on the size of the crop this fall.

In urging farmers to get out and vote in the September 25 elections, Lewis said, "The establishment of farm acreage allotments and general supervision of quota programs is a very important duty of PMA committeemen. Decisions which they make may have a far-reaching effect. In addition to quota program activity, a very sizable price support program, especially on wheat and corn, appears likely. These programs, together with the 1954 Agricultural Conservation Program will require the highest calibre administration. Farmers themselves can afford such administration by electing qualified committeemen."

The PMA county office managers will announce the time and place of voting in each locality. As is customary, the election will be by secret ballot.

Baptist Group Makes Ready for Extensive Membership Drive

The churches of the Norfolk Baptist association will observe preparation week for "A Million More in '54" September 20-27. It was announced today by Rev. W. A. Richardson, associational Sunday School superintendent.

This special week is the pre-off event in the campaign of Southern Baptists to enroll a net gain of a million people in Sunday School in the coming year.

Evening sessions will be held in most of the churches Monday through Friday, with a general period devoted to matters of concern to the entire Sunday school and a period for age group conferences.

A new book, "The Pull of the People," by J. N. Barrette, will be used as a guidebook for study and planning during the week.

Action that the churches will take is expected to be along the following lines: organizing additional Sunday School classes; expanding the Sunday school ministry to babies; expanding the Sunday school ministry to people unable to attend because of old age, illness, or Sunday employment; adopting a plan to locate people not enrolled in Sunday school and assign responsibility for their enlistment; adopting a program of weekly visitation; and organizing one or more branch Sunday schools.

Goal of the churches of the Norfolk Baptist association in the campaign is a net Sunday school enrollment increase of 4,200. Present associational Sunday school enrollment is over 21,000. Total Sunday school enrollment of the Southern Baptist Convention is 5,491,096.

A. to help pay the Band debt. From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Big traffic jam in front of the office last week. Thought everybody in the county was coming in to buy The Clarion, but they weren't.

Seems a 5-gallon can fell off Whitey Fisher's truck, spilling cream all over the street. Our cop on duty, Tiny Fields, halted traffic so Whitey could pick up the can. Tiny was about to wave the cars on when a kitten ran out and started lapping up the cream.

Well, traffic piled up, but Tiny paid no heed. Light changed green three times. After the kitten had enough, Tiny waved the traffic through.

From where I sit, this was just a "Tiny" demonstration of the way people in our town are. They're usually pretty considerate and tolerant. If one of our neighbors prefers a good glass of beer to his friend's coffee at dinnertime, it's just each to his own taste and everything's "smooth as cream" between them.

Beef—which has been appearing on food shoppers' list and homemaker's tables with increasing frequency this year, due to abundant supplies and more favorable price levels than in many years, continue as the number one plentiful food for September. The Production and Marketing Administration reports, seasonally heavy marketings of grass-fed cattle now coming to markets across the country will keep beef in plentiful supply for many weeks to come—especially the intermediate and lower grades.

The attractive prices are expected to continue to make beef a good buy from a family budget standpoint.

Prosh and frozen fish are another high quality protein food in excellent supply. September should see abundant supplies of halibut as leading Western and Alaskan halibut fisheries wind up their seasonal operations.

Ocean perch, haddock and cod will be plentiful, too.

Here's another mighty popular food: top of the Production and Marketing Administration list.

Turkeys will be plentiful and you'll surely enjoy serving turkey often—its an economical buy. Milk as well as manufactured dairy products continue in larger production than in 1952. So be sure that you enjoy plenty of good rich nourishing milk, creamy cottage cheese and ice cream—yes—ice cream for those Indian summer days what could be more exciting.

Maybe you only think of fashions—as milady's fashions and the styles ARE changing—but the tin can styles are changing too—they are getting a NEW look.

Have you noticed the sizes of the cans on your grocer's shelves? The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports there is a change. Have you noticed some cans of vegetables have taken on a new look—a little slimmer and shorter than they used to be.

There's a good economical reason behind this. I know I can remember when the number two can was the most commonly seen. Often it was the smallest can you could buy and you really didn't need that size. After World War II the number 308 can came into being. It held a smaller quantity of food and was easier to handle and of course cost less money. This size has become very popular. This number 308 can is now taking nearly half the yearly canned beef pack, well over 60 per cent of the canned beans and sweet corn. 75 percent of the lima beans and about 70 percent of the canned peas. So you see there are fashion trends in tin cans as well as Milady's fashion world. I'm pleased with the number 308 size and I know all homemakers will find it far more economical in many, many instances.

A good vegetable salad using the number 308 cans is this. Chill the cans of vegetables at least twenty-four hours before making salad use one can of each of the following: green peas, baby limas, beets, string beans, carrots and kidney beans. Drain all vegetables thoroughly, mix with 1 cup chopped celery and I think you'll like Tomato French Dressing best of all for blending your vegetable salad. Blend and serve very cold. Bye now.

JOLIE MADAME, "LOVELY LADY"—Pierre Belmain chose the name of his famous new perfume, Jolie Madame, for the title of his new Fall and Winter 1953 collection and has carried forward his fashion philosophy based on elegance of the unpretentious with subdued effects achieved through architecture and the minimum of trimming. Belmain's silhouette is slim and softly flared with a natural waistline and natural hips. His fabrics are definitely softer except for cocktail, dinner and evening dresses. There are two new necklines in the Belmain collection: the envelope, which is transformable, and the soft pyramid neckline. This can be either high or low, but always framed by soft pyramid pleats from the neck. He places much emphasis on the soft suit and for daytime wear he features the mineral colors: alyx beige, macadam grey—a darkish grey, granite grey—a medium grey, and tar black. Jewel colors are used in the Pierre Belmain after-dark fashions such as sapphire, ruby, emerald, opal, aquamarine, platinum and jet. Silk and wool alpaca, beautiful laces from France, new lace bro-kept doing things and keeps interested in people, she'll have no time to think about her "checking off" birthdays or imaginary aches and pains of so-called maturity years. Any kind of a hobby on the side will do wonders towards keeping any matron merry and in a happy frame of mind!

Mary Tobin collects miniature liquor bottles and has a collection of over 700 in her Bird Neck home. Friends and navy personnel send the wee nip bottles to Mary from all over the world.

Mrs. Carrier Briggs is putting her pretty slender hips to good use these days. They're alternate sitting, "posts" for her bouncing baby boy who is one year old and weighs thirty pounds and hasn't walked yet! "Bootsie" good naturedly "haits" him from hip to hip and he beams and enjoys it all, cooing away happily at his pretty Mom's discomfort. As a well-known news magazine would put it: "No walkie-talkie he!" Incidentally, he is the spitting image of his Grampy Clark!

For Allbee's hat's off to all the Kind Ladies who helped backstage at the Augusta Shop's and Mary Tobin's fashions shows at the air. It's the backstage plan well carried out that makes the smooth-running show out front. Mrs. James Doyle and Mrs. Roy Briggs were plenty helpful at the Tobin children's showing.

Have you ever noticed how lorence Wilson calls an evening gown an "evening" dress? It sounds musical and different. Now with the fad of calling the hurricanes "Carol," "Dolly" and so on why not use girls' names for other things and fashions and give the old language a new life? Remember the "berthas" for col-lars?

Allbee's hat's off again to all many of Our Men at the Beach who showed up, and kept interested, in the Friday evening fashion showings. Senator Jack Etheridge was not only applauding his pretty Mrs. Etheridge in a fire-cracker red formal but he went out of his way to enthuse about the show to everyone who had a part in presenting it. It's nice to have the men-folk take "time out" to appreciate the feminine endeavors isn't it?

ends from Switzerland, knobby silk and wool cottons, ribbed and plain jerseys and solid and mixed tweeds are popular fabrics in this great French house's collection.

CARNEGIE COATS—In Hattie Carnegie's custom order designs shown last week in New York, she again proved herself a master at creating beautiful clothes for American women. Hattie had used Victorian portraits for her inspiration, but fashion authorities viewing the showings felt that the Carnegie fashions shown were anything but old and were definitely new-looking with perhaps the Victorian influence showing up in the romantic prettiness of them all. She featured her Double Arch line in the silhouette with shoulders and hips curved in to make this line. Her coats offered the Rectangle line, with the silhouette interpreting almost as much width as length. Shoulders on the coats curved and sloped and some sleeves, which came from the yoke of the coat, dropped well below the shoulders. Many new Carnegie coats took their lines from morning jackets worn by the gals in Queen Victoria's day, loose and slightly narrowed through the bust line in almost yoke effect of flat pleats or darts. These were designed in such light-colored wools as palest blue or violet.

POILES FROM THE ELFREDA—FOX COLLECTION—Much interest in the new fashions from this house is shown by striking a neat balance between interest low in back and softness high in front. The result is willowy and feminine in either case. Low-slung back belts, backless skirts, and back-floating hipline sashes take turns with a suit silhouette that is slim of skirt but leniently sleeved and roundly shaped for bosom width. Darts do the neat trick for some jackets, and outcurving, prominent tails for others. More often than not, the touch of jeweled embroidery that's become a fashion of its own in this collection gives a sparkling edge or depth to collar and cuffs, or adds a discreet or all-over glitter to black. A dashing new signature for coats and soft jackets is a streak of bright red wool in cardigan handings edged with black braid. Outstanding dress fabrics in the Elfrede-

Miss Kontopanos Becomes Bride of William Cole; Vows Spoken Saturday

Calvary Episcopal Church was the setting on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the wedding of Miss Constance Marie Kontopanos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James George Kontopanos, to William Herbert Cole, son of the late Capt. and Mrs. James Edward Cole of Norfolk. Rev. Edmund Berkeley officiated. The church was decorated with white flowers, ferns and lighted tapers. Mrs. George Aldridge accompanied Herbert A. Holt, Jr., who sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of satin and French lace. The gown was outlined with applique and sequins, a bosque bodice and long, lace sleeves. The tulle skirt was edged with lace and formed a sweeping train. Her fingertip veil was arranged from a half hat of lace and satin studded with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and Stephanotis.

Mrs. James N. Primas, of Cherry Point, N. C., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of Mayflower rose velvet and tulle over taffeta, fashioned with a strapless velvet bodice topped by a tulle stole. The bouffant skirt of tulle over taffeta was trimmed with velvet flowers centered with rhinestones. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Arthur Jennings of Springfield, Md., Mrs. L. C. Parents, Children, Motorists, All Share in Accident Prevention "Child safety in traffic is a three-way proposition," Chief Steven E. Johnson said today.

Johnson, who is Chief of Police of the Virginia Beach Police, was speaking in connection with the child traffic safety program which his group is sponsoring this month in Virginia Beach in cooperation with the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

"The safety of children on the streets and highways of our nation is dependent on the traffic attitudes and actions of three groups—parents, motorists, and children themselves," he said.

Schools are doing a fine job of teaching safety in the classrooms, from kindergarten on up, Chief Johnson pointed out, and

In many cases also are conducting driver education courses which give high school students practical experience behind the wheel.

"But if the program to save our children from injury and death in motor vehicle accidents is to be really effective," he said, "it must be carried beyond the classroom."

Parents must set a good example to children in their traffic habits, Chief Johnson explained, and must use the authority and discipline of the home to instill in children respect and obedience to traffic safety rules.

"Children lack the mature judgment of adults, however," he said, "and even with the best training, their actions sometimes are unpredictable. So it is up to the motorist to be especially alert near schools and playgrounds, in residential areas—and any place children may be expected to gather."

And the children themselves must do the best they can to walk and play safely, observing the rules they have learned at home and in school, Johnson said.

"Child Safety can be a reality only if all three groups work to bring it about," he asserted. "That is why special emphasis is being put upon the responsibilities of each by the local police department and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee this month.

Blood Demand Not Lessened by End of Conflict

The shooting may be over in Korea but the demand for blood goes on. This is the reason that Captain Arthur S. Hill, 250-54th Street, will be among blood donors coming to the Virginia Beach Community House, Oct. 16, when the Red Cross Bloodmobile arrives there for the next blood drive under sponsorship of the Civitan Club. Captain Hill, who serves as Chief of Staff under Admiral P. T. Entwistle, head of Operational Development Force, has given consistently at blood drives on military bases but the recent visit of the Bloodmobile to Virginia Beach found him among the donors.

Captain Hill pointed out that while the Korean Armistice has reduced the quantity of blood required for the armed forces it does not lessen the urgent need for blood for other important purposes. Husband of the local Red Cross blood program chairman, Captain Hill is the father of three children: Arthur, Jr., Sally and Virginia, and he is well aware of the need of blood to further the ever increasing use of serum for polio prevention.

This naval officer is the first of many military men who are expected to transfer the giving of blood to civilian outlets. The importance of this change was realized with the recent announcement of RC President E. Roland Harriman. "During the coming year, Mr. Harriman said, 'the 45 Red Cross regional centers will have the responsibility for collecting 3,100,000 pints of blood including an estimated defense requirement of 1,300,000 pints."

EASIER LUNCHES

It's September again, and in many homes the school lunch box has already made several trips to and from the school room. The routine of packing lunches is much easier for the fortunate owner of a home freezer. Problems of "what shall I pack today" are minimized when you put your freezer to work.

Sandwiches, cakes, cookies—all can be prepared ahead of time and stored in the freezer. It's efficient and time-saving to make sandwiches in quantity and freeze them. Most sandwiches can be stored two or three weeks. They thaw in 3 to 4 hours and taste best immediately after thawing.

Mexican Quail Theory Out Says Virginia Commission of Game

Many Virginia bird hunters are under the impression that the tendency of quail to light in trees and stay in the woods is due to the influence of Mexican quail blood in their veins. Indications are that this is a complete misconception. There have been no Mexican quail brought into Virginia for 23 years, unless in very small lots by individual hunters. In the spring of 1930, the Game Commission did import 10,000 birds from Mexico and released them. In more recent studies it has been found that the survival of native stock raised in captivity and released in Virginia is very small, less than two percent; less than one percent in Missouri; and 1.26 percent in Oklahoma. These results were shown in banded bird recoveries.

If any of the Mexican birds survived, in a climate entirely different from what they were accustomed to, the survival was exceedingly small. Even if all of them had survived, 10,000 birds would have constituted a very small percentage of the overall population of native birds in the State. The intermingling of such a small amount of foreign blood could have had little effect.

Furthermore, after at least 23 generations, any instinctive traits of Mexican quail in our Virginia birds would have been bred out long ago. It is hardly probable that any introduction of Mexican quail have had even the slightest effect on the present habits of our birds. Their behavior must be

James Crockett Named Manager Local Theatres

James K. Crockett has been named general manager of the Crockett-Pender Theatres in Virginia Beach. It was announced this week by a spokesman for the operating organization.

Crockett has been associated with the local theatre chain for more than 18 years and succeeds his father, J. S. Crockett, in the managerial position.

At the same time it was announced that Albert V. Crosby, Jr. will be associated with Crockett in the managerial position and John Cole, who resides in Rudee-Heights, was named manager of the Bayne Theatre.

The new general manager, in succeeding to that position, brings to the organization a wide experience in motion picture theatre operation. Crockett, who is 33 years old, began his career in Virginia Beach 18 years ago as an usher at the Old Roland Theatre on 17th Street.

The Crockett-Pender theatres were started by young Crockett's uncle, the late W. F. Crockett, who opened the Roland Theatre in 1925. The Bayne Theatre was built and opened in 1934 and the Beach Theatre in 1947.

Don't Pass Loading School Bus Going OR Coming, Drivers Warned

With schools throughout the county in full swing after the summer vacations, it is apparent that many of our drivers are forgetting some of their safety manners with respect to our commuting school children. Motorists are reminded that when approaching a stopped school bus, whether directly ahead or facing in the opposite direction, they are to come to a full stop until the bus has finished loading or unloading, and has started up again.

Crossings in the vicinity of our schools are danger areas for motorists, whether guarded by school patrols or not. Please respect the "Slow-School Zone" signs. They remind you to keep an eye out for children hurrying to their classes.

Virginia Beach parents who send their children to the Atlantic Avenue buses are asked not to let them cross that busy boulevard. Have them wait on your side of Atlantic. The bus will pick them up on that side, and they will get to school just as quickly

NOT A CLUB OPERATING IN COUNTY SAYS MOORE

Princess Anne County Police Chief James E. Moore this week issued a statement denying that any clubs are in operation in Princess Anne County at the present time. The statement was made in reply to a news story that appeared recently in a Norfolk Newspaper referring to two Princess Anne County clubs being placed out of bounds by the Navy.

The news article listed the two county clubs as the Little Pal Club on Shore Drive and the Ice House on East Ocean View Avenue. Chief Moore denied these places were clubs.

Chief Moore's statement follows: "It was reported that there were two clubs in Princess Anne County placed out of bounds by the Navy on Saturday morning by one of the local papers, but I desire to correct this and say that there are no clubs operating in Princess Anne County and there have been none in operation for some time. Commander Grant of the Navy has called me and said that the news article was in error."

"I requested of the Navy that it place out of bounds two small stores in Princess Anne County, the ice store and the pul store, since they were suspected of conducting an illegal operation."

School Officials Will Open Building Bond Bids on 29th

FUNDS WOULD FINANCE FACILITIES AT LITTLE CREEK AND SITE NEAR ROBBINS CORNER

Opening of bids on a $950,000 bond issue to finance new school construction will be held on September 29, it was announced this week by the Princess Anne County School Board.

The bond issue would finance two elementary schools in the Lynnhaven District of the County, and according to Chairman of the Board John B. Dey presided at Tuesday's session of the Board held in the Princess Anne Court House School Board office.

A delegation of mothers from the Bayside area were presented and protested the system of double shifts made necessary by the heavy enrollment in that area. The Board assured the group that beginning in the fall of 1954 this condition would be eliminated.

There has been a record increase in enrollment in Princess Anne County—and according to Frank W. Cox, divisional superintendent for Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach City schools, the increase is "probably the greatest of any school system in the state."

Enrollments this year grew from 7,807 last year to a figure of 8,207 as of now and it is expected that the increase will

Phone Service Maintained by Management

Management personnel manned the switchboard at the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company exchange building on 22nd Street during the 12 hour strike called last Tuesday by union workers of the company, it was revealed by L. F. Patrick, local manager for the company.

"Two special buses from Richmond headquarters brought management personnel to the Norfolk area with eleven persons arriving at the Beach in the afternoon," Patrick said.

The general walkout of workers started at 6 a.m. Tuesday and a back to work agreement was reached late in the afternoon so that regular shifts began reporting for work at 5 p.m.

"All service at Virginia Beach was back to normal by 7 p.m. Tuesday," Patrick stated. "We had marvelous cooperation from management personnel during the brief walkout," Patrick added.

The strikers were ordered back to work by Robert W. Bailey, CWA representative of the Eastern District, after an appeal by State Labor Commissioner Edmund M. Boggs.

All strikers among the 7,000 employees affected by bargaining were returned to work as fast as they could be notified.

In Virginia Beach all calls of an emergency nature were taken care of during the strike. The strike affected all personnel except management.

TIDEWATER COLLEGE PROPOSAL ENDORSED BY CITY COUNCILMEN

CAMP PENDLETON SITE WOULD OFFER ADVANTAGES OF PHYSICAL LAYOUT, STREETS, WATER, SEWERS

The proposal that a four-year college be established in the Tidewater area received the wholehearted backing of the Virginia Beach City Council last Monday night when that group passed a resolution favoring such a project.

Action by the council adds to a long list of cities and towns in this area that have backed the proposal. Only the City of Suffolk has expressed disfavor to the plan.

Following official action of the council Monday night, a brief, informal discussion ensued in furthering the idea of the four-year college with a likely site at Camp Pendleton suggested.

The Camp Pendleton area has many fine advantages, it was pointed out. The former Army camp is owned by the State and is serviced with water, sewerage, electricity and has paved streets. All of these items would reduce the cost of such a project, plus the availability of the present buildings at Camp Pendleton.

In other action, Council approved on second reading an appropriation of $147,000 from the special tax fund for the Beach Erosion Commission project.

The Council received a letter from Thomas H. Wilcox, attorney who represented the City in its recent unsuccessful attempt to annex certain land now in Princess Anne County, in which he said that he believed an appeal from the court's decision is not justified. This was concurred in by City Attorney Roy Smith.

A zoning board recommendation that the north side of 30th street at Artie Avenue be changed to a business district from residential was approved. It was understood that a grocery store would be erected at this site.

Committees were appointed to study property owned in the city by the municipality with a view to selling, and to study possibilities for establishing a uniform scale for tapping fees for water and sewer line extensions.

VIRGINIA WOMEN AID SHRINE

The Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs announced it will participate in the General Federation's campaign to restore Independence Hall to its authentic 1776 condition. Here, in the historic hall in front of the Liberty Bell, Mrs. Oscar Ahlgren, Washington, D. C., president of the General Federation, receives from S. D. Arns, New York, vice president of American Can Company, the first of thousands of coin banks to be presented by the company to women's clubs throughout the United States for use in collecting coins from school children, club women and members of service and community organizations. The banks are small slotted cans lithographed with a scene portraying the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The Federation estimates that at least $250,000 will be needed to replace "wrong period" furnishings with authentic antiques and restore to their original condition the rooms where the Declaration of Independence was signed, and the constitution adopted.

Selection of PMA Committeemen 'Privilege, Responsibility,' --Lane

The opportunity to vote which Princess Anne County farmers have in the annual committeemen elections on Friday was described today by PMA Chairman R. W. Lane as "both a privilege and a responsibility."

"Most farm homes are directly affected by at least one and often several PMA programs administered by farmer committeemen," Mr. Lane said. "The way I look at it, a farmer is not quite doing his duty to his family nor to his neighbors if he fails to exercise his vote in the election. These months ahead, more than ever, we need a strong committee system; we need men in whom farmers can entrust their own welfare."

Anyone eligible to participate in any PMA programs can cast his ballot at any time from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in his community voting place below. Denny and Brinkley's Store for Kempsville, Flanagan's Store, Oceana, County PMA Office, Princess Anne, Curtis Ansell's Store, Black Bay, and Blackwater Bridge Store at Blackwater.

TIPPING THE CHAPEAU

Capt. and Mrs. Charles L. Werts who occupy the residence located at 53rd and Lakeside Drive have been selected by the Council of Garden Clubs to be complimented this week for their interest and maintenance in the garden surrounding their rented property. It is obvious that they are only two of many residents, since they are Navy people, yet they show so much interest in their environment and in the community in which they make their abode that they have been throughout the summer kept an artistic colorful garden, annuals in full bloom in spite of the dry season, have put in camellias and have even gone so far as to plant a shrubbery to a better location due to growth, soil conditions and a general outlook towards future beautification for the premises which they rent.

How proud we should all be of such Navy People in our midst... And hats off to Mrs. Werts who has been a very important part in the accomplishment!

'BUDGET BEEF' HOUSEWIFE'S BEST BUY; NO SECRET FOR TASTY, HEARTY MEALS

The news Virginia housewives are hearing these days about the abundance of beef in grocery stores is good news, indeed! At last "budget" conscious families can have all of the beef they want to eat—and at a price they can well afford to pay. You can now serve beef every day, if you like, and if you are a wise shopper, save money.

Most of us know we have had a drought. Your lawns and flowers in the yard are testimony to the lack of rainfall in the Old Dominion this summer. The pastures upon which Virginia beef cattle feed are even browner and drier than your own front yard. This has resulted in cattle producers having to market much greater numbers of their cattle than they would ordinarily do at this season of the year. The needed rainfall to produce tender green grass for "finishing off" the cattle has not come. Therefore, the beef we can buy for reasonable prices is not as fat, nor is it possibly as tender as we would like for it to be. But—it is good, nutritious beef that will taste mighty good to Virginia's beef-starved families.

Meat inspectors label this meat "budget beef." Before the days of meat grading, this was the best most frequently found in meat markets. It is the beef mothers cooked by long slow temperatures until you could cut it with a fork. From the drippings, she made luscious rich, brown gravy for mashed potatoes, rice or noodles.

Plates went back for second helpings with a "more potatoes and gravy, too, please!"

Home economists, nutritionists and doctors tell us that ounce for ounce, the less expensive cuts of beef contain the same food values, the same vitamins and minerals, as the more expensive grades of meat. So why not be wise and buy more and better food for the family without dipping deeper into the pocketbook.

There are no special "secrets" for cooking budget beef. It is just a matter of knowing the cuts of beef and how to cook it. Chuck roasts, blade and flank steak, short ribs, stewing beef and round steak all need some moisture when they are cooked to make them tender. Like all other kinds of beef, they have more flavor and taste is less lost from shrinkage when they are cooked at a low temperature for a longer period of time. Ground beef is good when cooked properly by any tested recipe.

Recently we have seen meat tenderizers on the market. They are not expensive and when the manufacturer's directions for their use are followed they do make meat more tender. But, read and follow these directions if you expect to get the best result and the most for your money. In case you have some doubt—reliable brands of meat tenderizers are made from pure wholesome ingredients often found in the foods we eat every day.

Virginia homemakers who take pride in "setting the best table in town" can once again plan menus like she did in the good old days. Shop wisely, look for week end specials in your local newspaper, and plan menus around the cuts of beef that make nutritious, good tasting meals that will satisfy the most exacting connoisseur of foods. The following are taste tested recipes from the Test Kitchen of The Southern Planter, farm magazine published in Richmond.

- 3/4 cup hot water
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 2 1/4 cups mashed potatoes
- 1 onion chopped fine
- 1 bay leaf

Cut a deep pocket in side of steak. Mix seasonings and mash potatoes all onion. Stuff s.e. with potatoes and skewer or sew up pocket. Heat fat in skillet. Dredge steak with flour and brown in hot fat. Place in deep baking dish. Add water to fat in which steak was browned, add bay leaf, then pour over steak. Do not cover. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees F. or until meat is tender. Gravy may be made from liquid in baking dish.

IDEAS FOR HOMEMAKERS

Pour left-over cereal into a glass that has been rinsed out with cold water. Chill thoroughly and tip it out of the glass. It can then be sliced and fried until it is crisp. A bit of syrup poured over the top will make it more appetizing.

You can keep the cut end of a cake fresh longer by pinning a slice of bread over it with tooth picks.

Equipment plays an important part in making home cleaning tasks easier and safer. For instance you'll need equipment with a long handle when sweeping, mopping or cleaning, if you're to maintain a comfortable position.

A small table on casters or basket for supplies which eliminate frequent bending, or carrying of supplies from room to room, is helpful. A sturdy step ladder, preferably with an attached shelf, is a good investment.

A sauce of ice placed on top of a pitcher or other container full of hot liquid, will cool it in a short time, since hot air rises an cold air falls.

To remove white rings left by hot dishes, place a few drops of camphorated oil or sweet oil on the ring. Let soak in a few minutes, then polish with a soft cloth.

A Casserole Feeds Many With a Minimum of Trouble

FOR real, easy-going entertainers without fuss, there's nothing like a good old-fashioned casserole. It takes only the addition of a bowl of crisp salad, some hot rolls and a companionable glass of iced coffee to feed any number of guests with amazingly little trouble and amazingly little expense, too. Besides which, it leaves lucky you only one service dish to wash up afterwards!

Now, all these things are important, but there's one thing that's even more so, in any one-dish meal, that one dish should be outstanding. This Kidney Bean Casserole fills the bill perfectly, being easy to prepare and economical. It combines hearty ground beef, kidney beans and macaroni with tasty onions and sharp cheese, soup and spices to make a piping-hot, colorful dish that's as good to eat as it is to look at. With such a recipe for your file, there's no need to shudder at the thought of entertaining more than a few people at a time. You just increase the ingredients in proportion, to fit the situation.

The amount of time and trouble involved in their preparation remains the same.

Most casserole dishes demand a beverage with the meal, and there's no better foil for this taste-tongling dish than frothy iced coffee. Brew it fresh, double-strength; pour it over ice cubes and serve immediately with cream and a pitcher of simple sugar syrup for quick sweetening. You'll find it a perfect casserole companion.

A COLLEGE HERE

The idea of a four year college to be located in the Tidewater area has met with almost complete approval by cities, towns and organizations within the area and the latest proposal that such a college be located at Virginia Beach in Princess Anne County—makes the proposition even more intriguing.

Just the thought of locating such an educational institution in Virginia Beach might sound like wishful thinking but the proposal is loaded with sound arguments for such a location with the exact site indicated.

The suggestion is that the college utilize the State-owned property at Camp Pendleton, just to the south of Virginia Beach. The suggestion is sound when it is considered that the State already owns some 1600 beautiful acres of land at Camp Pendleton, which gives ample land area for future development.

To further the proposal there is the matter of utilities already available at Camp Pendleton including water, sewerage and electricity which is a sizable expense item in an undertaking of this proportion.

The more serious thought given to the idea of establishing a four year college in this area would indicate that a more suitable site could hardly be found than the Camp Pendleton site and with the existing buildings and other services already there it makes the proposal a very sound one, indeed.

FREEDOM CAN BE TAXED AWAY

This is a story of freedom and butter—and how easily our freedom can be taxed away. It is a story of butter, and parity, and taxes, and freedom.

The "parity" prices of butter bears little relation to the free market price of butter. We know this even though we do not know what the free market price is. We know it because for quite a long time consumers have refused to buy in the market all of the butter that farmers are encouraged to produce at the "parity" price. Likewise, we would know it if there were to be a shortage of butter causing consumers to bid the price far above "parity." This has happened, too but only for a short time.

Freedom Not to Buy

Consumers are free people when they enter the market place. They are free to substitute the purchase of one product for another. Their substitutions are based on their own individual idea of values. Their values are relative since they have no formulas to tell them what is "just" or "fair," or on a par or at "parity" with something. They consider themselves free to select according to their tastes, their pocketbooks, the price of other things. They are free NOT to buy, as well as to buy. Consumers are free to determine the value of butter in their own estimation. The value they place on butter and the value of butter determined by legislation do not coincide. If these values should coincide, it would be largely a matter of chance. The result at present is a surplus of butter that cannot be sold at a price reflecting "parity" to the producer.

"Persuading" the Consumer

If a price is to be set by legislation, rather than by consumers in the market place, some means must be found to force consumers to buy the product at the fixed price—to compel them to buy more or less than they would otherwise buy. This calls for some kind of coercion. In times of shortage, rationing may be used. In times of surplus some means of forcing people to buy the commodity becomes necessary.

One method of forcing consumers to buy surplus butter would be to pass a law requiring everyone to eat butter instead of substitutes. Of course, it would be necessary to prescribe the amount each should eat, say 16 pounds per year; otherwise, someone might eat just a little butter to comply with the law but not enough to use up the surplus. Such a law might be difficult to enforce in a free country. There would have to be some medical exemption certificates issued to certain consumers for dietary reasons. Various but "bureaucratic" might be needed. Such doings would probably be frowned on, and would not be popular with the people. They might feel that their freedom to buy or not to buy butter was being violated. The devil take it! they might say.

There is a much better way to accomplish the same thing—a painless way to "persuade" consumers into buying butter whether they want it or not—a way to induce consumers to buy not only the butter at legislated price but the substitutes as well. The means is very simple—TAXATION. The government buys the surplus with the consumers tax money while the consumer buys the substitutes in the market place. Thus the consumer pays both the butter and the substitute.

When We Go Free Here

In this manner the freedom not to buy no longer exists. How easily our freedom of choice can be taxed away!

But the amount of the tax, you say?

It is very small; rest assured, it is just a negligible amount. Just a small link in the chain of events that undermines our individual freedom of choice.

★ HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING ★

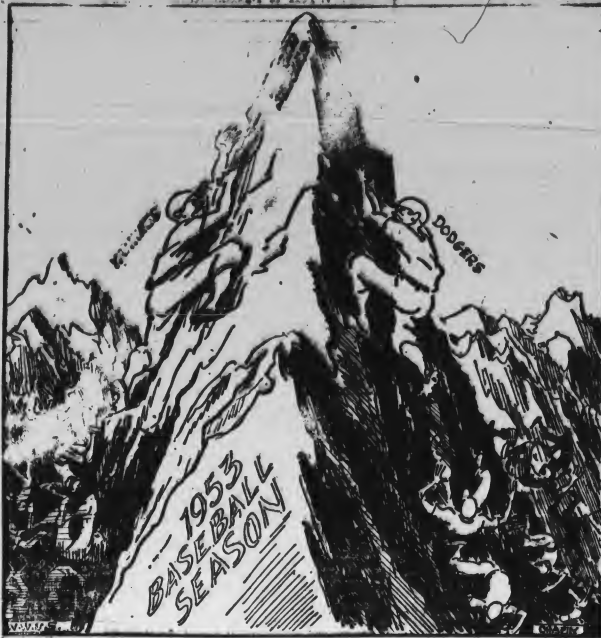

Four years ago Fred H. Cousin, 664 Lee Street, Danville, Virginia, found himself driven by fear and worry to the office of his physician.

The doctor said what every good doctor says to a patient at the end of his examination. He said: "You can't get better unless you stop worrying." But he didn't follow the doctor's advice and a few months later his worries reached their height of violence. After four sleepless nights he wondered if he could stay on his feet through the day. When he walked into the office the boss informed him that they had a small Government job on hand.

Fred was to make drawings in detail and send them to the regional office, where they had to be checked by several big shots. If they were approved there, they would be sent to New York, where

They exhibited products from their 4-H club activities which ranged from insect collections to electric displays and lamps to garden products and crops to poultry, sheep and dairy cattle.

At the Princess Anne County Fair at Seaside Park, 20 4-H club members put on 67 exhibits as products for their labor in their 4-H club work. At this fair, Walter Lee Humphries took top honors with 4 first place winnings, 4 second place winnings and 1 third place win.

Other winners were: Roger White, second place win; Buddy Redfern, 1st place win; Fredie White, 1st place win; Jimmie Bright, 3rd place win; Gene Smith, 1st place win; Alleen King, 1st place win; Harlan Wood, 2nd place win; Doris Humphries, 1st place win; Sylvia Ann Miller, 2nd place win; Norman Wood, 2nd place win; Ronnie Wood, 1st place win; Floyd Waterfield, 1st place win; Jessie Craddock, 1st place win.

These 10 4-H club boys and girls won $40.50 in prize money for exhibiting in the Norfolk Tidewater Fair. In summarizing the prize awards of both fairs, the 4-H club members of Princess Anne won a total of $213.00 in prize awards. This is one way of showing the quality of work that the 4-H club boys and girls do upon completion of their project work.

Twenty years ago, Connecticut passed a law requiring automobiles to be equipped with windshield wipers. The state has just passed one requiring windshield

A FISHERMAN IN YOUR FAMILY?

FREEZE CATCH FOR FUTURE USE

If there's an amateur fisherman in your family, why not enjoy the tasty results of his fishing trips all year round—by preserving part of each catch in the food freezer? (And incidentally, the freezer will furnish him with tangible proof of the "fish stories" he tells his friends long after the season's over.)

If fish are to be frozen, suggests the General Electric Consumers Institute, persuade your family fisherman to handle his catch carefully, for fish which came out of the freezer will be only as good as when they were put in.

Fish should not be allowed to become bruised by flopping around in the bottom of a boat. Rather, they should be killed as soon as possible after being caught, preferably by a method which will allow blood to drain from the flesh. The viscera should be removed, and the dressed fish

How to Package Small Fish
Small to medium sized fish can be packaged whole, or boned, skinned, and packaged as fillets. By wrapping each fish individually and assembling them together in a plastic bag, enough fish for one meal can be removed without thawing others. Or by freezing small catches over a period of time, enough fish can be saved to serve a sizable crowd.

Unless they're to become show pieces, large fish should be iced and frozen as steaks or chunks, depending upon the number of people to be served from one package. Steaks are generally cut into 1/2 to 1-inch slices or enough to produce one serving. Chunks of 4-to-6-inch thickness are adequate for serving the entire family.

Use Brine for Lean Fish
To lessen the amount of juices lost while thawing, lean fish should be dipped in a brine solution before being wrapped for freezing. A 2 1/2 percent brine solution, made by adding 1/3 cup of salt to 1 gallon of water, is recommended for croaker, flounder, sole and mullet. A 5 percent solution, made by adding 2/3 cup salt to 1 gallon water, is recommended for haddock, cod, cusk, haddock, hake, halibut, pollack, rockfish, rosefish, sablefish and whiting. Fatty fish such as mac-

If the food or meat market has to be relied upon to supply fresh fish for freezing, trade with a reliable market and be sure the fish are fresh. A fresh fish has bright coloring, the scales adhere

A Dessert to Remember

Today, if guests drop in for dinner, you don't have to have the agility of "Native Dancer" to produce a delicious meal. Using modern frozen foods, you can serve a delightful dinner in about 30 minutes from stove to sitting down time. And when it comes to the dessert here's a sweet that will "send them away with a smile."

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE
1 package Strawberry Shortcake (1 1/2 cups hot water)
1/2 cup whipping cream (unflavored)
1/4 cup whipping cream (flavored)
1 cup shortcake cookies (crushed)
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add frozen strawberries and stir until thawed. Place in refrigerator. Whip cream with sugar. Fold in cookie crumbs. Make 4 to 6 portions. Place in sherbet dishes. By now the strawberry mixture should be starting to thicken. (It takes only about 10 minutes.) Carefully spoon into cream-lined dishes and return to refrigerator. Let stand about 15 minutes longer. For coffee, serve Snow Crop frozen coffee concentrate. Merely boil water—if it's to be hot; or get out the ice. If it's to be iced.

CROP REPORT

GENERAL: Fall harvest operations made favorable progress during the week ending September 18, but lack of sufficient rainfall caused pastures to decline slightly, according to the weather and crop report issued jointly by the U. S. Weather Bureau, County Agents, Vocational Agricultural Instructors, and the Virginia Cooperative Crop Reporting Service.

WEATHER: Rainfall showed wide variation but was very light in southwestern, southern and southeastern counties. Only seven stations of the 39 reporting recorded more than one inch and these stations were in central and eastern counties. Temperatures averaged below normal. Light frost occurred on the 14th in many mountain areas of the southwest, but little if any damage to crops resulted. Many stations reported below 40 degrees on several nights.

CROPS: Pastures showed slight improvement in the western, central, and eastern counties but declined rapidly in the southwest and in the southern and southeastern areas. Most farmers continued to feed cattle. However, in some counties where lespedeza was coming some growth, these fields were used for grazing. Late tobacco showed some improvement in sections which had showers. Yields for all types are expected to be considerably below the average of recent years. Soybeans are ripening rapidly and yields generally were expected to be low except in a few areas. The poorest fields were being harvested for hay. Pansies in a few areas received enough moisture to improve yield prospects, but in many sections, yields are expected to be considerably less than last year. Apples improved somewhat in the northern counties but winds caused a heavy drop. The size of apples is generally smaller than normal and picking reports indicate that crops are not coming up to earlier expectations. Corn yields are generally disappointing, although a few areas reported better yields than anticipated. Commercial vegetables, pepper, snap and lima beans were reported as being near the close of the week. Newly seeded pastures, alfalfa and clover also were short of moisture in most sections.

FARM WORK: Harvesting of corn, cotton, apples, sweetpotatoes, snap and lima beans and green peppers increased during the period. At the close of the week about 37 percent of the cotton crop had been picked which is considerably ahead of normal. About 25 percent of the apples had been gathered, compared with 20 percent last year. Most of the blue-cured tobacco crop had been harvested but some late fields were still growing, and harvest was delayed. Curing of fire-cured meat progressed and about 70 percent of the acreage had been harvested at the end of the week about 85 percent of the acreage had been cut. Last year at this date, about 60 percent of the acreage was in the barn at the end of the week compared with about 70 percent last year. Beans, growers were digging the rows in which stalks were being placed and a

Johnson Denies Charges Levied in Mayflower Suit

W. Taylor Johnson, of Virginia Beach, president of the Mayflower Corporation, and his wife, Foye, a director of the corporation which operates the Mayflower Apartment building, denied charges of wrongful acts or conspiracy and demurred to the bill. The Johnsons claimed in their pleading that the complainants, F. A. Van Patten, and his wife, Phyllis W. Barrell, are instituting the suit because the board of directors has refused to declare and pay a dividend on common stock.

It was revealed that the Johnsons own 52 percent of the common stock in the 18-story Mayflower Apartment building and the Van Pattens own 48 percent. The Johnsons denied all charges brought against them and it was disclosed that many vacancies now exist in the building and that prospects are that many more will exist in the future. Attorneys disclosed that the building is operating at a deficit at the present time.

It was alleged that Johnson was trying to depress earnings so that he might buy the Van Patten stock at a reduced price. This was denied and it was stated that Johnson had no desire to purchase the Van Patten stock.

Selective Service to Conduct Tests

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, has announced the fourth series of selective service college qualification tests will be given on Thursday, November 19, 1953, and Thursday, April 22, 1954 at more than 900 testing centers. Approximately 483,000 students have already taken the test. Well over a half million students will have been tested by next spring.

Students currently deferred on the basis of test scores or class standing numbers approximately 162,000. Students whose academic year will end in January, 1954 have been urged to take the November test so they will have a test score on file at their local boards before the end of their academic year. Applicants for the tests will mail applications for the November 19, 1953 and April 22, 1954 administrations to educational testing service in self-addressed envelopes which will be given to registrants by local boards. Bulletins of information concerning the test are also available at the local boards.

Applications for the November 19, 1953 tests must be postmarked no later than midnight Monday, November 2, 1953. Applications postmarked after midnight of that date cannot be accepted for that test. To be eligible to apply for the selective service tests the student must: (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not previously have taken the qualification test.

The present criteria for consideration for deferment as a student are: (1) the student must be a full-time student; (2) the student must be pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) the student must not previously have taken the qualification test. During 1952 Forest Service fire-fighting crews suppressed 11,965 fires. Of these, man caused 7,021.

New Business Service at Beach

More proof of the rapid growth of Virginia Beach into a city is the number of business openings that bring the community services usually found only in much larger towns.

The newest of these is a complete business service that performs the functions of any part, or all, of your office operation from dictation by phone to handling, your entire files and billing for you. This service will prove a boon to the small new business where office staff is not justified until the business is established. Phyllis W. Barrell, of Allentown, Pennsylvania, and came here by way of Niagara Falls, Montreal, Boston and New York City. She is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, Class of 1929, and the Katherine Gibbs Executive Secretarial School in Boston, Massachusetts.

Leonard H. Barrell, the other member of the team, is from London, England, after graduating from the City of London College, in 1930. He did graduate work in Business Administration and Finance at Harvard Business School and was employed by Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc. in the Accounting and Traffic departments until 1939. In September 1931 he visited Virginia Beach, and was impressed by its year-round climate, the pleasant living conditions, and extensive possibilities for future development.

Leonard H. Barrell and Company was conceived and established by Phyllis and Leonard Barrell to fill the needs of business in this area. All types of business and professions are dependent upon accurate records, effective advertising and efficient, courteous service.

undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the qualification test or specified rank among the male members of the class, upper half of freshman class, upper two thirds of sophomore class, or upper three-fourths of junior class.

Students accepted for admission to or in attendance at a graduate school prior to July 1, 1951 satisfy the criteria for consideration for deferment if their work is satisfactory. Graduate students admitted or attending after July 1, 1951 must have ranked among the upper half of the male members of their senior class or make a score of 75 or better on the qualification test.

Use of tests by the selective service system, along with class standing, was originally based on recommendations of the six Scientific Advisory Committees appointed by General Hershey in 1947. The committee's report, printed by Dr. M. H. Trytton, chairman, was made in the fall of 1950. After a subcommittee had prepared general specifications for a suitable test of Scholastic Aptitude Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, was designated as the testing agency to carry out the construction of the test and its nation-wide administration.

During 1952 Forest Service fire-fighting crews suppressed 11,965 fires. Of these, man caused 7,021.

Now Your Maturing Series E Bonds Can Earn Interest 10 Years More at 3%!

PRESENT TREASURY REGULATIONS make it possible for you to collect a return of as much as 80% on the Series E Savings Bonds you already own!

For now those Bonds which you invested in 10 years ago can go right on earning interest for ten more years without your doing a thing about it! That is true not only of the Bonds which you have held for ten years, but any other Series E Bonds which you have invested in the meantime. And any Series E Bonds which you obtain now will also enjoy the extended earning period. They will start earning interest sooner and mature earlier, too, paying 3%, compounded semiannually when held to maturity.

The Bond you got for $18.75 can now pay you $33.67... a $37.50 Bond will be worth $67.34... and so on.

Invest regularly in Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Ask your pay office to save as little as $1.25 a week for you, or as much as you are able.

If you can save just $5 a week regularly through the Plan, in five years you will have $1,367.50... in 9 years and 8 months, you'll have $2,850.70... and in 19 years and 8 months, $6,872.45!

So join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work today. Or start the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

If you want to be paid your interest as current income—invest in 3% Series E.

If you want a good, sound investment which pays you your interest by check every six months, ask at your bank about United States Government Series H Bonds. Series H is a new current income Bond available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Redeemable at par after 6 months and on 30 days' notice. Matures in 9 years and 8 months and pays an average 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Series H may be purchased through any bank, annual limit $20,000.

Now even better! Invest more in Savings Bonds!

'SEAHAWKS' DROP SECOND CONFERENCE GAME 8-0

SEAN HUGH GROUND, BUT NOT OVER ENEMY GOAL

SEAN HUGH GROUND, BUT NOT OVER ENEMY GOAL

Virginia Beach High School dropped their second straight game as many starts last Friday night to Great Bridge, 8-0. The conference foe, 6-0. The contest played at Memorial stadium drew an estimated 2,000.

Weakness

The Seahawks proved again their inability to cope with a pass team. In the fourth quarter Great Bridge Coach Jack Riding made an aerial attack with Captain Jimmy Raines doing the passing, first to end Charley G. and setting up the touchdown. Then to halfback Curtis B. for the score.

It was the same weakness in pass defense that played a major role in their first loss to Churchland. Seahawks fans can rest assured that Coach Isaac's has been stressing both pass defense and offense in this week's long practice sessions.

Looking Good

The Virginia Beach team were a number of standouts last Friday night. The big guns in the line proved to be led by Bobby Derrang, tackle; Kermit Scarbo, center; and Frank Tarrall, center. These boys were responsible for some good blocks which enabled Sonny Halstead, Terry McCall, Buba Stand, and Meads to gain consistently through the center of the line.

Halstead

Halfback Sonny Halstead turned in a sterling performance both on offense and defense and led his team with an average of 7 yards gained from the line of scrimmage, followed by McCall, Standing, Lude, and Meads. Halstead's first quarter drive. Halstead spark a Seahawk drive.

A yard line only to have a pass intercepted to end the drive. Again in the 4th quarter Halstead coming back into the lineup after being injured a few plays earlier, took the ball on a handoff and scampered 35 yards to the Great Bridge 15 but the Seahawk offensive bogged down and the ball went over to Great Bridge. Great Bridge ran two plays and then caught the Seahawks unaware with a booming kick-kick which sent the locals back on their own 44-yard line. Thus ended both touchdown drives for Virginia Beach.

Coach Isaac

Head Coach Fred Isaac could rightfully break out his crying when this week due to the plague of injuries befalling his charges. Sonny Halstead who was injured in the Great Bridge encounter has been out of heavy drills a week due to possible internal injuries, and his chances for playing Friday night are rated a toss-up.

Buba Standing suffered torn ligaments in his ankle and is definitely out of this week's game, probably two or three more weeks of layoff will see him back.

George Sanderlin is nursing a badly sprained ankle acquired in practice Thurs. before the Great Bridge game. There is a slim chance that Sanderlin may be ready by tomorrow night.

Due to prevailing circumstances Coach Isaac will have to do some hitting around to field his strongest team tomorrow night. McCall will be moved from Halfback to fullback. Halstead and Janderlin will take over the halfback post if their injuries will permit it, and Bobby Ludeke and Meads will work under the center. Jim Standing will be put in the line upon his return.

Virginia Beach High School will take on Central High School of Eastern Shore at Virginia Beach Memorial Stadium tomorrow night Friday, Sept. 25.

The hapless Seahawks are hungry for a victory and will be doing their best to come out on top tomorrow night.

Your support will help them win. Kickoff time 8:00 p.m.

FOOTBALL

If you haven't seen it, it is September 15 issue of College Football. Walter has picked Notre Dame to take the national football championship this year. He rates U.C.L.A., second and Georgia Tech third in the nation. Wallace picked Jack Parker of Mississippi State, Paul Cameron of U.C.L.A., Paul Giel of Minnesota, and John Latimer of Notre Dame as his first all-American backfield. Unusual praise is going to Steve Mullinger of Kentucky by all sport writers at this stage of the game. Last season he played quarterback, fullback, and end for Kentucky. This season he is slated for a halfback post. Seems he is a one-man football team. Latimer, mentioned above, is

Beach Jayvees Open Season Tonite

Creeds Enters JV's In Football Lists

Creeds will open their season this Thursday night, at Virginia Beach. It will be a J. V. game. Creeds is playing all J. V. games this year, because of an almost complete eight grade squad. There being only four members returning from last year's team. The seasons schedule consists of seven games:

Sept. 24, Va. Beach, there, 8:00
Oct. 1, Oceana, home, 2:30
Oct. 8, Kempville, home, 2:30
Oct. 15, Va. Beach, there, 8:00
Oct. 22, Norfolk Aca, home, 2:30
Oct. 29, Kempville, there, 8:00

being picked by men sport writers as the back of the year and Bill Kriemeyer of Vanderbilt the sophomore back of the year. Franklin Brooks of University of Texas will become the sophomore lineman of the year, the writers are predicting.

Recently, an Ohio driver committed suicide by cutting his throat while at the wheel of a moving automobile. At first it was thought the laceration was due to glass or jagged steel but investigation disclosed the knife and no possibility of his being wounded otherwise. His car crashed into a truck but fortunately the other driver was only slightly injured.

Two Team Matches At Country Club

Golfers of the Princess Anne Country Club will be busy next month with two team matches scheduled during the month.

On October 4 a Princess Anne team will go to Richmond to battle with a team representing the Country Club of Virginia. Then on October 25, the Elizabeth City Club will send a team to Virginia Beach for a match against a Princess Anne team. Players already signed up to go to Richmond include Clu Champion Al Mailhes, Lewis Keller, Dickie Payne, Harry McCreedy and Brad Tasswell, Jr.

Last Tuesday a nice field of ladies participated in the weekly ladies day event at the club with a six blind hole serving as the feature of the day.

The ladies were divided into three classes. Winners in the various classes were Mrs. F. E. Noale; Class A; Mrs. Dean Achmid; Class B; and Mrs. George W. Bratten, Class C.

Club Professional Leo Kern has announced that the course is in excellent condition and the play has been extremely heavy during the month of September. Kern complimented Greenskeeper Alex Harris and his crew for the wonderful care taken of the course during the hot summer months.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the club scheduled for October 29 will be dinner following the meeting.

3-D Fashions Now Making News

A whole new world is opening for motion picture fashions with the advent of three-dimensional movies, says Renie, one of Hollywood's top designers. And this new approach to fashion will be felt throughout the fashion world she believes.

The new film processes go out depth and detail is achieved before. The rich texture of woolen fabrics, for example, makes them ideal for three-dimensional filming, Renie declares. In designs, she continues, the camera now picks up the minute detail of texture in woolen fabrics. Tweeds, cashmeres, patterned weaves and surface textures literally "come alive" on the screen.

Fabrics made of wool absorb light, instead of reflecting it, whereas other fabrics tend to cause glare and unpleasant reflections when photographed by the new process, technicians report.

Renie and other designers at her studio, 30th Century-Fox, are enthralled with the vast possibilities of the new medium, and with its potential impact upon the over-all fashion scene, she asserts. The fashion influence of motion pictures in general is certain to increase with the life-like quality of three-dimensional reproduction, authorities agree.

Fish flour has been considered as a possible substitute for milk in countries where cows are scarce. Odorless and tasteless when properly prepared, it can be used in biscuits, soup, or mixed with corn meal.

A tidal bore is a form of flood in which sea water, entering a river with a wide mouth and quickly narrowing channel, rushes upstream with a roar to build a moving wall of water that is often dangerous to shipping.

Student Forum Will be Conducted As Part of World Trade Meeting

Student and faculty representatives from 21 colleges and universities in Virginia and adjacent states will take part in a student forum on World Trade in Richmond on October 2.

The forum will be part of the 10th annual Virginia World Trade Conference, being held at the Hotel John Marshall, October 1 and 2.

Stierley is the director of the American Arbitration Association; executive committee member, Inter-American Commercial Arbitration Commission; honorary member, the International Trade Club of Greater Kansas City; on the board of editors, the Arbitration Journal, and past secretary of the Controlled Circulation Audit, Inc.

Some 500 persons are expected to attend the World Trade Conference, according to Robert T. Marsh, of Richmond, president of the Virginia Merchants National Bank and chairman of the conference.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

By JOHN O. HART, County Farm Agent

SEED LADINO RIGHT FOR TOP PASTURAGE

If you are planning to seed a ladino pasture this fall—seed it right. Pasture is your cheapest feed. A good pasture program here in Princess Anne should provide at least 240 days of grazing during the spring, summer and fall. Listed below are some important factors in making a new seeding of permanent pasture this fall.

1. Take a soil sample and have it tested to see whether or not lime is needed and the general fertility level of your soil. Lime where needed and the soil test will indicate the amount needed. A good practice is to apply the lime needed, based on a soil test, at least 30 days before seeding and plow or disk it into the soil.

2. What to seed—Seed 1 to 2 pounds of certified ladino clover seed and 10 to 12 pounds of Virginia grown or Virginia adapted orchard grass. If Kentucky 31 or Alta Rescue is used in place of orchard grass use 8 to 12 pounds with the ladino clover. For hot pastures seed 2 to 3 pounds of ladino clover per acre. For high yields and a more flexible use, 3 pounds of certified Kenland or Northern Neck red clover or 4 to 6 pounds of Williamsburg, Atlantic or Buffalo alfalfa may be added to the above mixture. Always inoculate legume seed immediately before seeding.

3. When to seed—Seed after first good rain in September and up to October 10th.

4. How to seed—Seed on a compact seedbed free of clods. Harrow and roll until seedbed is firm. (Continued on Page Five)

Construction of New Type Seen In Capital Area

A type of apartment construction seen more often on the West Coast than in other parts of the country has been introduced in the national capital area, and units are being rented faster than they can be completed.

The new project, reported by the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, is of exposed plank and beam construction and utilizes a million board feet of Douglas fir and southern yellow pine lumber.

Ground-hugging, contemporary design features of the buildings, with large glass areas and emphasis on exposed structural wood, have attracted a waiting list of tenants for the first units prior to any advertising. Rent range for the one- and two-bedroom units is $59.50-$77.50 per month.

The quality of design in these moderate rental brackets is considered another "first" in this area. For Builder Carl Freeman, nationally known for his award-winning postwar "Americana" houses, including a local Tjader Secret house featured in recent issue of Changing Times magazine, Arvid Kronstadt is engineer and designer.

Six buildings with a total of 106 rental units are scheduled for completion within two months with another six buildings rising up within the next eight months. (Continued on Page Five)

WORDS TO THE WISE

Fall is here and the afternoons are getting shorter. Please be careful now during the dangerous "going home" hour when traffic is heavy and dusk is falling. Soon it will be entirely dark and traffic deaths will rise. Our Governor's Highway Safety Committee particularly warns pedestrians that it is difficult for drivers to see them.

State Delegation At Regional Education Meet

Governor John S. Battle recently appointed a four-man delegation to represent Virginia at the second annual Legislative Work Conference on Southern Regional Education set for today and tomorrow at Daytona Beach, Florida.

Theme of the Conference, which is sponsored by the Southern Regional Education Board, will be "how legislatures can help insure the highest possible quality of education in the South per tax dollar spent." According to Dr. John E. Ivey, Jr., Board Director. The Virginia delegation will join similar groups, made up chiefly of legislators with special interest in education, from thirteen other Southern states.

It includes Sen. Floyd C. Bird, Chairman, Nominations and Confirmations Committee, Member of Committee on Public Institutions and Education, Richmond; Sen. W. C. Caudill, Petersburg; Rep. John W. Roberts, Norfolk. Sen. Bird is a member of the Planning Committee for the south-wide Conference.

The delegates will be welcomed by Governor Johnston Murray of Oklahoma and hear a report on the purposes and operations of the Southern Regional Education Program by Dr. Ivey on the first day.

Nationally known educators and legislative leaders will participate in the discussion.

Women to Take Big Part in State World Trade Parley October 1-2

Women will play an important part in the fifth annual Virginia World Trade Conference, being held at the Hotel John Marshall, Richmond, October 1 and 2.

At this year's meeting for the first time in the conference's five-year history, one panel discussion will be made up entirely of women, according to Robert T. Marsh, of Richmond, chairman.

The woman's panel is the result of an ever-growing interest in the field of world trade among women, many of whom hold extremely high positions with leading businesses in the field of world trade.

Leading the discussion, to be held Thursday, October 1, will be Miss Emma Doran, editor of foreign trade, Journal of Commerce, New York City, who will serve as moderator. Others scheduled to take part in the panel, entitled, "Portent for '54—Turning Points Ahead," are Mrs. Dorothy Kimmel, managing director, L. M. P. International, Inc., Bedford, Ohio; Mrs. Lilian Kreps, manager, world trade department, Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, Indianapolis, Ind.; and Mrs. Naomi D. Marshall, southern manager, Chemco Products Company, Inc., New Orleans.

The all-woman panel is among several that will be held during the two-day conference in an effort to bring about an increased interest in world trade among Virginians and to bring about a better understanding among people and nations.

The conference will begin with a group of "commodity breakfasts," designed to bring together persons with the same interest to discuss topics such as agriculture, chemicals, coffee, textiles and tobacco in relations to world trade.

More than 500 businessmen are expected to attend the conference, including many persons with wide experience in the field of world trade.

Among the speakers will be Douglas Abbott, Canada's Minister of Finance, who will address a Thursday luncheon and speak on "Canada's Trade and the World's Trade."

Another interesting phase of the conference, designed to carry out its purpose to interest youth in world trade, is the student forum. Representatives of student bodies and faculties from 20 schools and colleges in Virginia and adjacent States will take part in the discussion.

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach will begin their winter series of Card Parties and Luncheons Tuesday September 29th at the home of Mrs. Fredrick Reider on Lake Bradford.

These card parties were originated three years ago by the Ways and Means Committee to help with the Building Fund. It was at this time that the Building Project at the Beach got underway. As that time the Fire Station was built and the money from these parties went into the fund. After the Fire Station was completed a kitchen and lay-out was begun and in due course finished. Now the club is working on the last and most expensive part of the project the Auditorium.

The residents of the beach and visitors look forward to these monthly card parties. The hostesses serve a delicious lunch and there are high and low prizes for bridge and canasta.

The hostesses this month with Mrs. Reider will be Mrs. E. A. Hudson, Mrs. Harry Palford, Mrs. L. E. Ledington, Mrs. T. B. Petty and Mrs. R. J. Vellins.

Lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. and players are reminded to bring their own cards. It is hoped that the season will start out with a bang and fourteen tables are

Your GARDEN GUIDE

THE GARDEN IN AUTUMN

September is really a summer month in the garden. If it were not for the golden morning of the harvest moon against the background of the dark sky, we might feel as though it was still August. The days are shorter and some days not much cooler, though little wispy air rises out of the garden at night fall making it cool and revivifying. Dew falls heavily, and the roses, ever with the ground, take heart and begin to bloom again. In the borders the marigolds, delphiniums, petunias, zinnias and many other plants in very deep color excel themselves.

There is always work to be done in a garden. For you who have not planted or separated your old clumps of iris it is not too late. The first step, of course, is soil preparation. Work the soil well to a depth of 10 or 12 inches and, if available, incorporate a generous supply of compost. If you do not have the compost insert a little fertilizer. Do not fertilize too heavily for iris are not heavy feeders and too much nitrogen will cause a lush growth of foliage and will make the plants more susceptible to rot. In very heavy soil it is well to add a little sand. If soil is known to be acid add a little lime.

The ideal location for iris is in full sun and at least a half day of sunshine is essential. When setting new plants barely cover the rhizomes with the roots well spread out below and not fanned about them. Cut fans back to about six inches and keep soil moist until new growth begins. Keep beds free of weeds so that the sunlight can get down to the rhizomes. Although it is advisable to divide old clumps at least every four years, if new plants are not needed the old clumps may be thinned out. Cut-off limp or brown outer leaves occasionally and cut off old bloom stalks weeded with the ground.

There is lots of material in the autumn garden for arrangements. Marigolds arrange very attractively in a narrow mouth brass vase. Try your favorite basket container with ivy vines and evergreens or leaves.

Yes—it IS fun to cook—and I'm sure you'll find it so. When you're using recipes from the new complete meat cookbook by Beth Bailey McLean and Flora Hegstad Campbell, just off the press, I was really thrilled when I received this exciting new cookbook from Chas. A. Bennett Co., Inc., Peoria, Illinois, the publisher. This book is packed full of information you will want to have. It is a complete meat cookbook and includes helpful hints on carving and serving. Suggestions for entertaining many guests full of information about seasonings, glazes, sauces, stuffing, garnishes and accompaniments as well as how to buy and serve meats. Oh! It's just wonderful, you'll want one for yourself, I'm sure. Order it direct from the publisher before September 30th—$4.95. After that date it will be $5.95—"the who hesitates is lost"—it has been said—so—don't wait to order yours.

Most everyone likes meat and its very important that meat is included in our daily menus. Here are some quotes from the book—furnished by The American Meat Institute.

"The smiling steak and the friendly frank: both are eating fun. But beyond that both are on a par when it comes to protein, which we are hearing so much about these days.

"Protein is the great builder of the body—the food essential you need for healthy growth of all muscle and tissue. Protein is the life sustainer of every cell and nerve. 'Protein—complete, high-quality protein is supplied in abundance by every cut and kind of nourishing meat.' 'In fact, nutritionists call meat 'a yardstick of protein foods.'"

Here's an interesting recipe or two from the book—Stuffed Baked Potatoes serves four. Baking time—1 hour.

- 1/2 pound hamburger
- 4 baking potatoes
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion or olives
- 2 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shredded cheese.

Scrub potatoes and bake in very hot oven (450 degree F) for 45 to 55 minutes or until tender when pierced with a fork. Pan fry

By ALISSEE

Sophie Tucker, Mrs. Show Business herself and the "Last Of The Red Hot Mamas" as Sophie proudly calls herself, was born for show business and to make people happy. Sophie has been doing things for others all her eventful busy life and in so doing has kept young in spirit, young in heart and certainly young in every gesture when you witness one of her performances today. Sophie has been around for a long time and a week from Sunday night, October 4, at the Waldorf Astoria, hundreds of friends, well wishers and show folks will turn out to a testimonial dinner to pay tribute to the Great Tucker. And don't think she doesn't deserve that "Great," either, for her heart is as big as this wonderful woman's song is herself. She has never refused a helping hand, to either men or women, and has never been so radiant and happy as when helping people. She loves people! She's always been interested in people and because of all this, today—after fifty years in the entertainment world with all its rigorous activities—Sophie is the youngest acting and youngest BRIDES LIKE FUN—On many of the new fall bridal gowns, you'll find hands of ermine and other white furs outlining the necklines and for cuff interest. This same fur influence is found in trimming on the gowns of the bridesmaid attendants, too. One bridesmaid gown shown recently in New York was of lovely gold-brown lace with the portrait neckline outlined in natural brown fur and with a fur motif to which the bridesmaid's flower corsage of brown orchids had been attached. In the new wedding gown collections, the re-embroidered lace and elaborate jewelling

Your Alissee recalls many wonderful visits with Sophie when she played the Coconut Grove and the Mayfair clubs in Boston, backstage at the Capitol and Palace theaters in New York and in her suite at the St. Moritz. Now Sophie lives on Park Avenue and spends fabulous sums for her cloth of gold gowns, jewels and so on. But with it all, she's always able to help others. The profits on her book, "The Last Of The Red Hot Mamas," goes to charity and she's never so happy as when autographing these books and selling them "after the show" in the lobby of the theater or night club she happens to be playing in. Do It Yourself, or Homework Made Easy, It Says Here

When Mary insists that "the bathroom simply has to be done over" and John decides that because of the cost "I'll have to do it myself," each seeks the answer to different questions.

John asks, "What material should I use? I'm no skilled carpenter. I want something fool-proof that's easy to handle—and within reach of my pocketbook too." But Mary asks, "What will it look like? How easy will it be to clean? How long will it hold up?"

Because prefabricated wallpanels give the right answers to all these questions, they are daily growing in popularity among people refurbishing their own homes. Prefabricated wallpanels are made of tempered hardboard with a factory finish of baked enamel. They come in large sheets, in sizes from four by four to four

4¢ worth of Electricity helps her double as a working wife

121 MILLION AMERICAN WIVES WORK

TEN MILLION American wives — or 27 per cent. — all married women in the country — work. This means that a vast majority of working wives actually are holding down two jobs, as 92 per cent of those interviewed indicated that they have no household help.

Many of these wise women know that electricity operates their Electric Ranges while they are at work — and welcome them home with a hot, healthful meal ready and waiting... for about 4¢ worth of electricity. That is but one of the many advantages electricity provides at low cost.

Its super speed provides quick breakfast in a jiffy. Then she fixes her complete dinner... places it in the oven... and sets the simple dial. At the proper time, the Electric Range turns itself on... turns itself off. Automatically!

This one automatic feature alone gives housewives extra time — time which they can devote to home, family and friends — even to gainful employment.

Your Electric Range Dealer now has a wide variety of new models on display. They range all the way from the biggest little models — only 30 inches wide — on up to the super deluxe models. You'll find a new model to fit your purpose and purse.

Plant Now for Spring Beauty

Remember that lovely tulip garden you so admired last Spring? Or perhaps it was a blending of fragrant hyacinths and graceful daffodils that caught your Springtime eye. If such a garden was not yours last year, it can be yours next year. You have plenty of time to plant, before the first frost hardens the ground—but you have no time to lose in planning your garden and deciding what bulbs you need to go with your plan. If you want lovely flowers in your garden next Spring, plant these now.

Tulip bulbs are imperative when set in divider beds by the dozen. These should equal distances apart in your garden. Place bulbs six inches apart, six inches deep, pointed ends up, in rows. Water down the soil.

For fragrances and beauty next Spring plant formal beds of hyacinths between mid-September and mid-October. Dig a trench six inches deep, place bulbs in rows, six inches apart, pointed ends up.

Daffodils in naturalized settings, among the trees or planted in tall, round grass, look charming and give an informal look to your home. Any "problem spot"—is enhanced with masses of golden yellow daffodils.

Farmers are successful by using a corrugated roller to firm the seedbed and then seed and follow with the corrugated roller to cover the seed. On heavy soils the seed should be seeded about 1 1/2 inch deep and not over 1/2 inch deep on the light sandy soils. Seeders are available that will seed the soil, seed and cover the seed at the same operation. A spike tooth or seeding harrow can be used to cover seed immediately after seeding.

Star-Studded "Band Wagon" Comes to Beach

Packed with such star talent as Fred Astaire, Cyd Charisse, Oscar Levant, Broadway's Nancie Fabray and Jack Buchanan, and loaded with hits from the pens of ace songwriters Howard Dietz and Arthur Schwartz, "The Band Wagon" is brought to the Va. Beach Drive In Theatre screen as M-G-M's top Technicolor musical of the year.

This is the first musical to stem from the joint talents of Producer Arthur Freed and Director Vincente Minnelli since their collaboration on the Academy Award-winning "An American in Paris." And once again they have evidenced discriminating taste and brilliant showmanship in combining the right stars with the right story and the right music to create a picture brimming with entertainment from opening laugh to tuneful finale.

The sparkling dialogue and song-and-dance situations of "The Band Wagon" revolve about the attempts of a once-famous Hollywood star (played by Astaire), now penniless and in the office, to revive his popularity by appearing on the Broadway musical comedy stage. Abetting him in this endeavor are Oscar Levant and Nancie Fabray, as writers of the show, and Jack Buchanan, as the producer-director. Unfortunately, the latter's idea of what constitutes Broadway entertainment turns out to be too highbrow; on top of that, Cyd Charisse, as the girl engaged to star opposite Astaire, is a ballerina with whom he is at odds both personally and professionally.

on part of a 43-acre tract at nearby Clifton, Maryland.

In contrast to joist and rafter construction, in which the structural members are concealed with finishing materials, the plank and beam method of building exposes the structural parts as an attractive beamed ceiling having the lasting beauty of natural wood grain, color and pattern. The first floor ceiling doubles as the subflooring for the second floor apartments; and the second floor ceilings carry the roof directly without additional structural supports.

These sample farms are a good indication of the changes made by farmers throughout the State and Nation. From this information, estimates of the total acres harvested can be made and published along with the yield per acre and total production in the December Crop Report. I hope our farmers of Princess Anne will cooperate with this program.

Ford Sales Remain At Top Level

National sales of Ford passenger cars, which broke a 38-year monthly record in August, are expected to continue at record levels throughout the balance of 1933. L. W. Smeed, Ford Division sales manager, announced today.

"With public preference for Ford passenger cars still continuing at high levels, we confidently expect sales during the last half of 1933 will approximate sales of 1932, the post-war record year," Mr. Smeed said.

August sales of Ford passenger cars were 8 percent higher than July sales and they exceeded sales for any month since June, 1930, Mr. Smeed said.

Ford dealers also reported that sales of used cars during August at the highest for any month since March, 1930. New truck sales for August were the best since September, 1930, and the highest of used trucks during August would all equal Ford monthly used truck sales records.

A significant factor in the record August passenger car and truck sales is the fact that Ford dealers reported a steady increase in new car sales of more than 10 days supply, in August, the July level, Mr. Smeed said.

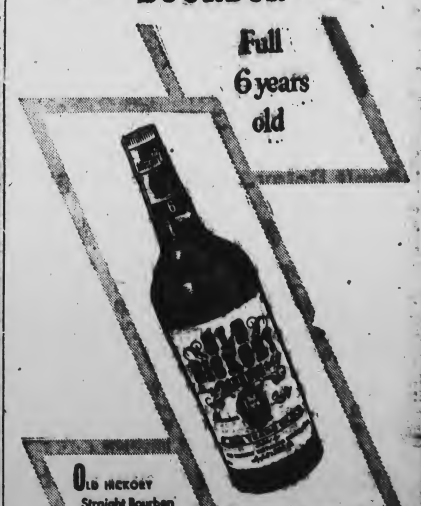

A Louisiana driver in Prince George County drove a 1932 Ford sedan in spite of his license suspension in order to get to work. He was stopped by a patrolman on an attempt to frighten his employer-in-law. The mother-in-law finally took a cab into Princeburg after the defendant was bonded. In the same county the owner of a Pennsylvania driver, who had been "red" and trying to reach Virginia to get a license of "red man" didn't work either.

New Fashions of New Fabrics —And Old— Feature Easy Upkeep

There's a revolutionary NEW dimension in fashion these days. . . . A never-before development in fabric processing that's setting the pace for fashion designers the world over. The dress you're wearing may be wool, silk, cotton or rayon—again, the fabric may be treated partly or entirely from one of the beauty-magic modern-living fabrics.

Although, not more than a generation ago, the well dressed woman wore fashions made from silvers loomed in cotton mills, shorn from sheep, processed from flax or spun by the silk worm in far away Japan. . . . we now have a whole new world of fabrics from which to choose, the basic fabrics constructed in new and different ways, or the wonderful modern-living fabrics. They're all more practical, too, because today modern-living fabrics are like their older sisters, the basics—in that they are usually washable, crease resistant and pleat retaining.

So, whether you're flying across country or just driving across town, your active life takes you more into the public eye today. With no time to spare, you must look your very best! The solution is easy . . . easy-upkeep fashions in today's modern fabrics. Sometimes they're the same wools, cottons and silks you're known for years—but with a modern processing which makes them washable and crease-resistant. Then again, they may be one of the modern-living fabrics which has the same qualities.

N&W Doctors Attend Meeting In Cincinnati

Norfolk and Western Railway physicians from all parts of the line arrived in Cincinnati last Friday by special train for a meeting of the N. & W. Surgeons' Association. Including wives, more than 350 attended.

The business meeting was opened by Dr. Harry B. Stone, of Roanoke, the group's president, at 2 p.m. Friday in the Hotel Sheraton-Gibson ballroom. Papers were presented by Dr. R. Glen Spurling, of the University of Louisville, Dr. Frank S. Johns, of the Medical College of Virginia, and Dr. W. Gayle Crutchfield, of the University of Virginia. There were also informal remarks by N. & W. General Claims Agent L. C. Yates whose department sponsored the meeting.

The railway had luncheons and dinners during the two day affair, a reception in the hotel roof garden on Saturday and a sight-seeing tour for ladies attending. The returning special train left Cincinnati at 10:15 p.m. Saturday.

Vet Administration Suggests Check Points for Home-Buying GIs

Administration to veterans who are contemplating the purchase of a home with the aid of a GI loan.

Five check points were listed by VA for a home buying veteran to consider with regard to the neighborhood in which his prospective home is to be located. These were in the form of questions, as follows:

First: Is the house located in a place that is reasonably handy for shopping center, schools, churches, bus or street car transportation? The answer should be yes.

Second: Is the neighborhood generally pleasant and attractive and are the neighboring houses at least as good as the one to be purchased? The answer should be affirmative.

Third: Does the neighborhood have local zoning laws to protect the home owner by regulating such things as future intrusion of commercial property and the size and type of houses which can be built in the neighborhood? Again, the answer should be yes.

Fourth: Regarding the possibility of unpleasant noise, is the location of the house far enough away from disagreeable noises like certain factories and highways carrying heavy truck traffic? The answer should be yes.

Fifth: Does the neighborhood have adequate improvements like streets, sidewalks, curbing and gutters? Unless the answer is yes, the purchaser may have to later put up his share of special assessment charges for installing these improvements.

VA urged veterans to make careful checks of the construction of the house itself and also the

John Wayne at Beach Drive-in

With John Wayne in the starring role, "Island in the Sky," an adventure drama, comes Sunday and Monday, Sept. 27-28 at Va. Beach Drive in Theatre. The Wayne-Fellows production for Warner Bros. concerns the graphic action surrounding a crash-landing of a transport plane in the frozen wastes of northern Labrador. The story deals with the efforts of the crew to survive during the five harrowing days and nights while thrilling rescue attempts are made by other planes. The action is filmed with the new WarnerPhone sound.

Based on the best-selling novel of the same name, "Island in the Sky" was written for the screen by the author of the book, Ernest K. Gann. A pilot for many years, Gann appears to have developed a successful formula for authenticity; he writes about the things he knows. His latest novel, "High and Mighty" was chosen as the "Book-of-the-Month" selection for May, 1953 and it too will be filmed by Warner Bros.

In addition to star John Wayne, the featured cast contains Lloyd Nolan, Walter Abel, Andy Devine, Allyn Joslyn, James Arness, Harry Carey, Jr., and others. The staff side of the film falls to Ann Doran, Dawn Bender and Phyllis Winger.

A new Ohio law requires those convicted of drunken driving to serve a minimum of three days in jail. The law specifically stipulates that "no court shall suspend the first three days of any sentence." It will become effective October 22, 1953.

Another Safety Award for Norfolk and Western Railway

The Norfolk and Western Railway extends hearty congratulations to its employees who once again have won a highly coveted safety award.

For the second successive year the distinctive E. H. Harriman Certificate of Commendation has been presented to the N. & W. for achieving the best overall 1952 safety record among all larger railroads in the South.

In addition to the Harriman awards, the N. & W. is a three-time winner of the National Safety Council award for the best employee record.

Safety doesn't just happen . . . and it doesn't come easy. Norfolk and Western records are the result of a 40-year campaign of intensive, continuous effort in accident prevention—studying, teaching and practicing safety in all phases of railroading, little and big. N. & W. records are proof that safety is the first law of good railroading. They are proof that safety on the N. & W. pays off—to employees, shippers and passengers.

The thousands of members of the Norfolk and Western Family will strive always to improve their record and to make this a better, safer railroad.

The N&W is a five-time winner of the Harriman Memorial Gold Medal—the highest honor in railroad safety
